TB SKIN TEST PROVES MOST INTERESTING

Two kindergarten children at West Marin School in Point Reyes Station are most interested as Dr. Leslie Webber gives tuberculin skin tests to them. About to be jabbed with the needle is Lynsie Herrod. Watching closely at left is Patty Paulson. Two hundred and sixty-five pupils of the two West Marin district schools plus four youngsters from Point Reyes School received the tests today, provided by the county health department and Marin Tuberculosis and Health Assn. Supt. Howard F. Brose said only five West Marin school children now have not had the tests. They were absent but will be given tests later, he reported. (Independent-Journal photo)

Two Are Critical After House Fire In Tiburon

One Is Unconscious; $10,000 In Damage

Two Tiburon men were in critical condition today at Marin General Hospital with extensive burns suffered in a fire which did $10,000 damage to their home at 2298 Paradise Drive at 5:40 a.m. yesterday. (See photo, page 4).

The men, who were removed from the building by Tiburon firemen after they were overcome by smoke, are Paul Edwards, 52, and Robert G. St. George, about 39.

St. George had still not regained consciousness this afternoon.

St. George suffered burns over 60 per cent of his body, plus severe respiratory burns from inhaling smoke, the hospital said. Edwards also suffered respiratory burns and was burned on the chest, arms and face.

FAULTY FURNACE

Cause of the blaze was a faulty furnace, firemen said.

St. George, sleeping on a living room couch directly over the furnace, awoke to find the room filled with smoke. He rushed to a rear bedroom to arouse Edwards, but the smoke had become so thick that both men were overcome before they could flee the house.

Firemen said Edwards heard St. George calling and arose but was overcome and fell back on the bed. St. George got to the door of the bedroom, then collapsed.

FLAMES REPORTED

The alarm was turned in by a neighbor and a passerby, each of whom saw flames shooting from the windows.

Four pieces of equipment responded to the call and doused the main fire in a few minutes, but had difficulty extinguishing burning material in the couch and an overstuffed chair which was nearby.

The two men purchased the $30,000 home about a month ago. They operate a beauty parlor at 1690 Tiburon Boulevard, Tiburon, in the same building as the Independent - Journal's Tiburon bureau.

Eight Rescued As Boat Hits Bolinas Rock

Coast Guard Makes Two Helicopter Trips; None Hurt

Eight persons were rescued last night by Coast Guard helicopter after being marooned for more than an hour on a 50-foot party fishing boat which hit a rock and went aground about one mile mile offshore of Bolinas.

Clarence Brown, skipper of the disabled Mark B, radioed the Coast Guard for assistance at 7:11 p.m.

The craft hit a rock about two miles northwest of Point Bonita at the southernmost tip of Marin County.

PATROL BOAT SENT

A 95-foot Coast Guard patrol boat, which is on 24-hour duty outside the Golden Gate, was dispatched for the search. A 40-foot cutter was sent from Fort Point and a helicopter from the Coast Guard air station in South San Francisco.

The fishing boat, its propellers and anchors torn away by the underwater rock and waves, was located at 8:25 p.m. about 12 miles northwest of the point described in the original call for help.

TOO SHALLOW

The two Coast Guard boats were unable to get close enough to the fishing boat to rescue its passengers because of shallow water.

The helicopter made two trips to Crissy Field at the Presidio of San Francisco with four of the disabled boat's passengers on each trip.

Uninjured and in good condition when they reached the U.S. Public Health Service Hospital in San Francisco were the skipper, Emma Brown and Charles and Clara Ashley of San Jose, and Raymond Drake, Horace Lutens and George Robinson of Oakland.

The party had been fishing off the Farallon Islands during the day and was returning to port when the boat hit the rock.

Marinite Home From Tahiti Sail

By BRUCE COLEMAN

The atomic bomb, the French Foreign legionnaires and Marlon Brando have come to Tahiti, and the Tahitian girls are prettier than ever.

These comments were made today by W. Harry Close of Mill Valley, who returned home at the helm of the 32-foot schooner Viator yesterday with two hitchhiking companions.

For Close, 59, a retired tool and die maker, it was the climax of a trip he started May 6 with two other sailors, Victor Bogachoff and Robert Dumont of Burlingame. Bogachoff and Dumont flew home from Tahiti.

With Close on his return trip, begun 45 days ago, were Bill Kruse, 32, a Sausalito butcher, and Milton Sahlgren, 34, of Michigan, whose profession is business engineering. Kruse and Sahlgren were more or less "hitching" a ride home following other adventures.

Close and his colleagues tied up the Viator, (which means traveler, in Latin), at Corinthian Yacht Harbor in Tiburon, and proceeded to Close's home at 195 West Blithedale Avenue where a homecoming party was held.

It was the third trip to Tahiti for Close, who built his boat. He had made the trip in 1936 with two mean and again in 1951 and 1952 with his wife, Ruth. Mrs. Close, however, refused to go on the latest trip, saying the Viator came close to capsizing in a storm on her trip.

The tanned Close commented that the French are preparing one island for an atomic bomb experiment and air fields are being built all through the islands. And a great deal of construction is going on.

He added that the making of "Mutiny on The Bounty," starrin Marlon Brando, upset Tahiti's economy.

He saw thousands of French Foreign legionnaires scattered around the islands. "They are using them pretty much for construction," said Close.

In the Marquesas, Close said he was recognized by many of the natives although he had not been there for 26 years. He noted that the schcools now use French instead of Tahitian as the principal language.

Asked about the Tahitian girls, Close replied, "as pretty as ever. In fact, better than before because they have better teeth."

The cruise was uneventful and the men had a good deal of time for reading. Close said he read some of Rachel Carson's books; Shalgren read Tolstoy, and Kruse read the dictionary.

Close likes the sailing life because he has his home with him. "A person has to like boats and working on boats to make a success of a voyage of this kind," he said.

Asked when he would make his next trip, the Mill Valleyan said, "I don't know." He indicated he would be sailing around the bay for some time.

San Rafael Entrance Bids Called

The California Department of Public Works today called for bids for building the first phase of a new entrance to San Rafael on Highway 101 at Second and Irwin streets.

Bids will be opened in Sacramento on Dec. 9. The state has $546,000 budgeted for the work.

TWO RAMPS

J. O. Grassberger, executive assistant to the Division of Highways district engineer in San Francisco, said the work will include a bridge and two ramps.

The bridge will extend Grand Avenue across the San Rafael canal. One ramp will provide access to the highway southbound from Second Street; the other will provide a connection from Irwin Street on the Bret Harte site.

GRADING, PAVING

Grading and paving Second Street from the Grand Avenue extension to Francisco Boulevard also is included in the work.

Major interchange structures which will provide eight lanes of traffic on the highway are to follow in later phases of the project.

Mayor John F. McInnis said he had been assured by Division of Highways headquarters in Sacramento that the Grand Avenue bridge will be built first, to prevent further congestion of Francisco Boulevard traffic during the Christmas buying season.

Bridge, Waldo Crashes Snarl Sunday Traffic

Five rear-end accidents on the Golden Gate Bridge and one on the Waldo Grade ganged up to create a traffic snarl at dusk yesterday that stretched six miles into Marin County on Highway 101.

Six persons were reported injured on the bridge mishaps, and two in the wreck near Spencer Avenue on the Waldo Grade, but none were admitted to a hospital.

Most seriously hurt was Leo W. Webb, 71, of 15 Piedmont Avenue, Larkspur, with possible broken ribs on his left side. He and his wife, Lola C. Webb, 69, who had a cut forehead, were among those treated at Park Emergency Hospital in San Francisco.

The string of pileups started with a non-injury accident at 5:10 p.m. on the crowded bridge.

A car driven by capt. Orville Otis Dean, 49, of 16 Via La Cumbre, Greenbrae, collided with one driven by Donal G. Rowell, 39, of 190 Almonte Boulevard, Mill Valley, pushing Rowell's auto into the stopped car of Thomas H. Anderson Jr., 28, of San Francisco.

Bridge district workers and highway patrolmen worked feverishly to remove the cars from the accident scene near the middle of the span, bus as traffic slowed to a crawl, other accidents began to be reported in a flurry.

At 5:45 p.m. a car driven by Barbara L. Hiatt, 43, of San Francisco, was hit from behind by one driven by Rex F. Berry, 50, of San Francisco, as both were headed south. Berry's wife was slightly hurt, but patrolmen were in such a hurry to clear traffic her name was never recorded.

She was driven to see a doctor by her husband. Patrolmen said Berry's car, itself, might have been hit from behind.

Then at 6:10 p.m., southbound just south of Spencer Avenue, Sausalito, two were hurt slightly in a three-car collision. Injured were Kathy Biser, 48, Daly City, and her passenger, Juliet Dosek, 52, San Francisco. Both refused hospitalization.

The highway patrol reported Mrs. Biser and Eleanor J. Thompson, 45, of San Francisco, were both stopped in the tied-up traffic, with Mrs. Biser in the slow lane and Thompson in the middle lane, when their autos were hit by a car driven by

Rafferty Hits Segregation In Education

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—Dr. Max Rafferty today released his chilly response to a group that had accused him of betraying "conservative ideals" by endorsing a "left wing" state plan for busing Negro students into a white Oakland school.

Rafferty, the state superintendent of public instruction, received the criticism in a letter signed by Robert Henderson, chairman of the Race Relations Committee, American Eugenics Party, P.O. Box 38068, Los Angeles.

"Understand clearly that we Caucasians have purposely choosen (sic) to live apart from Negroes and desire our children to go to school apart from Negroes . . . You were not elected to office to polute (sic) our schools . . . By every significant standard the Negroes are inferior," the letter said.

Rafferty, in a letter of reply, said:

"Understand once and for all that I did not run for the California state superintendency in 1962 on any platform of racial segregation."

He said that his program "toward education in depth . . . Is for all California children, not just some of them."

The plan, prepared by the State Department of Education to combat de facto segregation in Oakland, would give students

Marin Legal Group Drops Probe Of Suit

The Marin County Bar Assn. has quietly dropped its investigation of community reaction to a $100,259 suit against a Greenbrae man who stopped an alleged hit-run driver July 9.

Attorney Peter Allen Smith, bar association president, said today the bar had accepted the report of a three-member committee which concluded it should "completely refrain from taking any action, investigatory or other wise," until the matter has been settled through the courts.

Smith said the decision was made at the Marin Bar's Sept. 28 meeting.

The committee was formed early in September, a few days after accused hit-run driver John P. Lee's attorney, Berwyn A. Rice of San Rafael, filed the suit against Robert F. McCullough, 32, of 79 Almenar Drive, Greenbrae.

Lee, 34, formerly of San Anselmo and now living in Boston, Mass., faces a charge of felony hit-run driving. He is accused of hitting 12-year-old cyclist Robert C. Miller of 30 Corte Loyola, Greenbrae, then leaving the scene. Trial has been set for Nov. 10 in Marin Superior Court.

Smith said the committee's report explained that the county bar has no authority or jurisdiction for disciplining members of the California State Bar, and has not standing procedure for in-

Plan To Widen Creek Approved

Application to widen and deepen Lagunitas Creek submitted by Waldo G. Giacomini of Point Reyes Station has been granted by the Army Corps of Engineers, it was announced today.

The application to remove about 18,000 cubic yards of sand and gravel from the creek and use it for fill on adjacent marshland was referred to the chief of the corps in Washington last month by the San Francisco office because several objections to the plan had been received.

Mary L. Jones, 21, who suffered extensive head injuries Tuesday allegedly inflicted by her husband, J. D. Jones, 30, of 409 Drake Avenue, Marin City, remained unconscious and in critical condition in the intensive care unit of Marin General Hospital today.

Tokyo Power Struggle Looms

TOKYO (UPI)—Japanese Prime Minister Hayato Ikeda resigned yesterday because of ill health. A power struggle was shaping up among his three would-be successors in the faction-ridden conservative party.

Whoever wins, no significant change is expected in the conservative policies of free-wheeling, free enterprise and friendship with the United States.

Party leaders formally accepted the resignation today. They did not immediately decide how a new prime minister will be chosen.

The strongest contender is Eisaku Sato, 63, brother of Ikeda's predecessor, Nobosuke Kishi. Sato will be strongly contested by Ichiro Kono, 66, an Ikeda ally who supervised the just-concluded Olympics, and Aiichiro Fujiyama, 67, a former foreign minister.

The opposition socialist party demanded a new parliamentary election. But the Conservatives are expected to ignore this.

U.S. Combat Dead Rises In Vietnam

Cambodia Fire Apparently Hits Airdrop Plane

SAIGON, Vietnam (AP)—A U.S. Air Force pilot and his Vietnamese co-pilot were killed in the crash of their A1E Skyraider today on a mission against the Communist Viet Cong 30 miles northeast of Saigon. The cause was not immediately determined.

U.S. military sources, in reporting this incident, said six other Americans were wounded in widely scattered actions yesterday and today. The roll of American combet dead in Vietnam rose to 213.

EIGHT DIE

American officials reported a twin-engine U.S. Air Force transport shot down Saturday apparently was hit by Cambodian fire and not the Viet Cong. The C-123, airdropping supplies for a U.S. Special Forces camp, crashed and burned and all the eight Americans aboard were killed.

It appeared that U.S. ground and air forces operating along Cambodia's frontier were in a virtual state of war with that avowedly neutralist kingdom. Cambodia has charged, meanwhile, that planes coming from South Vietnam have strafed several of its border villages.

American authirities positively identified a body recovered at the frontier as that of U.S. Army Capt. Herman Y. Towery of Georgetown, S.C., who was captured alive with three Vietnamese troops in a battle with enemy sampans last Thursday. The bodies of Towery and two of the Vietnamese were found Saturday.

AT FRONTIER

Military sources said today the plane crashed in Vietnam about half a mile from the Cambodian frontier. Cambodia announced yesterday that one of its antiaircraft batteries had shot down an American two-engine plane Saturday at about the same place but on the Cambodian side in mountainous Mondolkiri Province.

U.S. officials in Saigon reported originally that the plane had been shot down by Viet Cong guerrillas. A second C-123 flying on the mission also was hit by ground fire but got back to its base without casualties.

Military sources said the crash definitely was within Vietnamese territory.

Hub Thieves Hit On Canal Street

Yesterday, William G. Moore of 220 Canal Street, Apt. 2, said three imitation wire wheels, valued at $18 apiece, were stolen from his car Saturday night.

Only three were taken, he explained, because someone had stolen the fourth one several months ago.

Sen. Kuchel On Record Opposed To Proposition 14

WASHINGTON (AP) — California's Republican Sen Thomas Kuchel has gone on record against Prop. 14, the November housing initiative, charging it is anti-American and its passage "would indermine the best that is in each of us."

The state's senior senator, in a statement released yesterday, thus joined Democratic Sen. Pierre Salinger in opposing Prop. 14. Salinger's Nov. 3 opponent, Republican George Murphy, says he will not take a stand on the issue.

Kuchel's stand put him on record in opposition to the state party's two main volunteer Agroups, the California Republican Assembly and United Republicans of California, which are backing Prop. 14. A group of Republicans, however, including many state legislators, also is working to defeat the measure.

(Among Republicans in opposition are Sen. John F. McCarthy and Assemblyman William Bagley, both of San Rafael.)

Prop. 14 would nullify most of the Rumford Act banning discrimination in housing because of race, religion or national origin. It also would put into the constitution a clause forbidding the legislature or local governments from passing future legislation dealing with housing discrimination.

Kuchel said the measure, if approved, "would abruptly take away from the California Legislature and from local government, city and county . . . all authority to deal with the subject of decency and fairness in real estate transactions, except in the case of eminent domain proceedings and transient hotel-motel lodgings."

He added:

"As a United States senator, I fear that Prop. 14 would endanger maximum participation by Californians in the benefits of federal housing and financing laws.

"But, most important of all, and simply as an American, I do not want California to dignify discrimination, nor encourage intolerance, nor mock the American Constitution and the American conscience."

Israeli Distrust Of Bonn Reported

WOLFSBURG, Germany (AP)—Germany's Lutheran dean, Heinrich Greuber, says there is a growing distrust in Israel of the West German government.

Grueber, who has just returned from a two-week visit in Israel, said chief reasons for the Israeli distrust are Bonn's reluctance to establish diplomatic relations with Tel Aviv, and the fact that German experts are working in the rocket and aircraft industries of the United Arab Republic.

U.S. B-52 Bombers Stationed Abroad

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States has posted a squadron of 15 B-52 heavy jet nuclear bombers on the island of Guam — within about 1,000 miles of Red China, it was learned today.

The unpublicized move, made last spring, places the 15 B-52's about 5,000 miles closer to Communist China than when they were based in the United States.

The squadron sent to Guam replaces a unit of older medium jet B-47 bombers. B-52s have at least twice the striking range and carry much more of an atomic wallop than the B-47s. The B-52s also fly faster and higher.

This is the first time that the long-range B-52s have been deployed overseas. The other 600 heavy jets are stationed in the United States, half of them on "runway alert" and ready for takeoff within 15 minutes.

No additional B-52s are scheduled for overseas deployment this year, the Air Force said.

Asked the reason for sending the 15 B-52s to Guam, the Air Force said the purpose is "to more effectively utilize the aircraft."

The type of B-52 stationed on Guam has an effective operating range of more than 6,000 miles with the fuel it carries in its own tanks.

Each B-52 can carry a brace of the heaviest nuclear weapons in the U.S. arsenal — weapons packing explosive equivalents of 24 million tons to TNT.

Futhermore, B-52s are fitted to launch Hond Dog missiles. These nuclear-headed missiles can blast ground targets more than 500 miles from their mother bombers.

To confuse enemy defenses, B-52s can fire off decoy missiles called Quail. The 13-feet-long Quail flies at B-52 speeds and altitudes, producing a "blip" on enemy radar similar to that made by the actual B-52.

The Air Force gradually has been retiring its aging B-47s. A one-time fleet of about 1,400 of the six-jet craft has been reduced to about 400 planes.

Ball Hits At Charge On Wheat Realings

WASHINGTON (AP) — The charge that the administration helped the Soviet economy by selling it wheat is "an absurdity," said Undersecretary of State George W. Ball.

"Selling them wheat at world prices which they could have bought other places was a drop in the bucket of the total Soviet requirements. It did not have much effect one way or another," Ball said yesterday in a radio interview on the Mutual Broadcasting System.

Local Strikes Still Hobble G.M. Plants

DETROIT (AP)—Despite ending of a 31-day national walkout against General Motors Corp., the giant of the automaking industry was hobbled today by local-level strikes that threaten to snuff out new operations.

The question of when the company that normally turns out more than half the nation's new automobiles might get any assembly lines going again was unanswered. One company source guessed: "Within a couple of days, maybe."

NEW CONTRACT

The United Auto Workers union announced last night that 95 to 97 local unions reporting had given "overwhelming ratification" to a new three-year national contract.

The UAW announced that the national strike was "terminated," but, at the same time, said the 28 local units which had not reached at-the-plant working agreements which supplement the national contract would stay out.

LOCAL PACTS

At the time 102 of the UAW's 130 units in G.M.'s empire had reached local-level settlement.

With announcement of the national strike's ending, G.M. called back maintenance and make-ready crews in the Pontiac Division at Pontiac, Mich., the Buick Division at Flint, Mich., and the Buick-Oldsmobile-Pontiac plant in Kansas City, Kan.

Louis G. Seaton, G.M.'s vice president for personnel and its chief negotiator, said there would be other callbacks, but he was unable to pinpoint them immediately, "and I don't think anybody else can, either."

Inmate Guilty In Assault Case

San Quentin Prison inmate Ernest L. Austin, 25, was found guilty Friday in Marin Superior Court of assaulting a prison guard last May 21.

The jury found Austin, convicted of assault with a deadly weapon in Imperial County Oct. 15, 1958, guilty of attacking Correctional Officer G. D. Eastland in a south housing unit cellblock.

The attack followed a food tray-throwing incident, according to grand jury testimony. Leighton Hatch, assistant district attorney, prosecuted the case and Donald McCullum of Oakland represented Austin.

Sentencing is scheduled this week.

'Equality' Promised Soviet Followers; Post-Khrushchev Jitters Combatted

MOSCOW (UPI) — The new Soviet regime today reassured its Communist partners that it intends to treat them as equals and not as underlings.

The assurance following disclosure of surprise talks in Poland between the new Soviet leaders and their Polish counterparts. Diplomats said the talks were aimed at showing Communist east European countries that Nikita Khrushchev's ouster will not mean tighter control from Moscow.

The Soviet government newspaper Izvestia today published an editorial entitled "alliance of the equal" while the Kremlin moved to calm Eastern European jitters over Soviet policy after the fall of Khrushchev.

"New relations of comradeship and mutual assistance — based on the principles of equality, mutual respect of independence and sovereignty — have been shaped among the states of the (Soviet) system," the front page editorial said.

Izvestia added that "the Soviet Communist Party considers it its sacred duty to further brotherly friendship with the Socialist (Communist) nations and widen collaboration in all sphere of economic, social, political and cultural life."

The editorial appeared along with a terse article on the meeting "the other day" between Soviet and Polish leaders.

In related developments this weekend:

Reliable sources in Moscow said chief Soviet ideologist Mikhail Suslov, one of the key figures in Khrushchev's downfall, is too ill with a chest ailment to be in the running for the top leadership. The sources said the 62-year-old Suslov's illness may be tuberculosis.

The government was expected to authorize the sale of flour for home baking for the first time in more than a year. This reflects both the good harvest this fall and the regime's desire to win popularity.

A French Communist delegation was in Moscow to seek explanations of the sudden switch in leadership. Delegations from Italy, India, and Denmark were expected.

(In London, Chinese sources said Peking does not consider Khrushchev's ouster in itself enough to warrant a renewal of close ties with Moscow. They said the Chinese want proof that Khrushchev's policies also are being changed. Evidence until now is that they are not.)

(In Uppsalla, Sweden, seismologists recorded what they believe was a Soviet underground nuclear blast yesterday, indicating that a testing program begun in March is continuing.)

Traffic Death Trial Slated For January

Jury trial date for Donald B. Still, 38, Marinwood man charged with two counts of felony manslaughter and another of drunken driving, was scheduled today in Marin Superior Court for Jan. 5.

Still, of 53 Unionstone Drive, is charged in the Aug. 24 head-on auto collision on Redwood Highway which took the lives of two women, Carol Florence Fay, 23, and Diana Alice Bullard, 21, both of San Francisco, and seriously injured Shirley Jean Tietjen, 22, of 10 Corte Cayuga, Greenbrae.

A $51,701.61 damage suit against Still has been filed by Raymond E. Fay, father of Carol, alleging careless and negligent driving.

vestigating cases which might lead to action by the state bar.

Because of this, plus the fact the case is still under litigation, committee members concluded their only choice was "completely refrain from taking any action, investigatory or otherwise, making any findings or expressing any comment, opinion or recommendations until such time as the courts will have finally resolved the controversy between the parties," Smith reported.

But the report added that this was not to be considered a "full and complete investigation" and that no opinion or conclusion was being reached on any aspect of the case.

It left the door open for possible future investigation, noting that procedures would be "open to anyone" who wished to complain to the state bar after the matter was settled in court.

TIE-UP

Edgar V. Carlson, 55, of 5 Circle Drive, Tiburon.

Carlson told highway patrolmen he swerved from the slow lane into the middle after cresting the hill on the Waldo Grade and seeing the stopped cars ahead of him. The accident bounced his car into Mrs. Biser's.

At about the same time, near the north tower of the bridge, a three-car accident injured Webb and his wife.

John A. Anzalone, 27, of San Francisco, was stopped in the middle lane, southbound, when his car was hit from behind by one driven by Willie Ostgren, 30, also of San Francisco. Ostgren had stopped suddenly a moment before, but was hit by Webb, the highway patrol reported.

Finally, near the middle of the span, a two-car rear-ender was, itself, partly the cause of an accident involving a tow truck at the scene.

Francis M. Boyle, 39, of San Francisco, was stopped, headed south, when her car was hit in the rear by one driven by Theresa M. Arab, 41, of 98 Granada Drive, Corte Medera. Mrs. Arab said her car had been hit from the rear and knocked out of control.

Joseph Boyle, 2-year-old son of Mrs. Boyle, riding in the first car, was treated at Park Emergency Hospital for a cut forehead.

At the scene of the Boyle-Arab accident, northbound cars slowed to look at the wreck, and one driven by Carl R. Grafe Sr., 33, of Napa, was hit from behind by an unknown driver, knocked across the center line and into a tow truck which had been parked in the southbound lane, blinking lights on, by Anton M. Schmidt, 2000 Redwood Highway, San Rafael.

Schmidt was out of the truck at the time, Arlyss Posey, 28, of Napa, a passenger in the car, was taken to Park Emergency Hospital for treatment of a sprained neck.

Sentencing Date Set In Traffic Death Case

Nov. 13 has been set as the date for sentencing of Daniel E. Gramlich, 17, formerly of Novato, who was found guilty last week of manslaughter with negligence in a traffic accident Aug. 29 in San Francisco.

The sentence will be decided by authorities in San Mateo County where the youth was transferred following the guilty finding in San Francisco Juvenile Court. Gramlich now lives in San Mateo County, and will stay at home until sentence is passed.

The sentence could range from probation to custody under the California Youth Authority. The youth is a son of Otto Gramlich of 831 Reichert Avenue, Novato, and Mrs. Gramlich of Pacifica.

The boy's car crashed into a Volkswagen bus near the beach, killing three of the 10 people in the bus.

in three predominantly Negro junior high schools the choice of attending the white Skyline High School. If they chose Skyline, the Negroes would be eligible to use that school's bus service.

"I oppose taking pupils out of neighborhood schools against their will," Rafferty said. "But I deny your right to prevent pupils from entering any school in any district if their parents want them to do so and if the duly elected board of education decides it makes good educational sense to have this happen."

Paintings Share Award In Novato

Two oil paintings proved equally pleasing to those attending the weekend Novato Art Festival, with voting ending in a tie.

Sharing the award for most popular painting will be "Phantom Ship" by Mrs. Herta Rothchild and "Invitation to Dine" by Mrs. Katherine Johnson.

In third place was "The Jockey," a casein painting by N. G. Johanannesna.

Twenty-five artists exhibited 104 art items in the show, sponsored by the Novato Art Guild and Novato Parks and Recreation Department.

Stabbing Trial Date Set For Two Convicts

Angel R. Nino and Joseph A. Steinaker, San Quentin Prison inmates charged with the April 6 stabbing of their fellow inmate, Leroy Scruggs, were scheduled today in Marin Superior Court for jury trial Dec. 1.

Scruggs was injured in the chest and arm with a seven-inch blade weapon but recovered. Both defendants are serving five-year to life sentences for first degree robbery in Los Angeles County.

Herman Eaton Brower, 51, of 7 Forest Terrace, Fairfax, was booked by Fairfax police at 4:49 a.m. yesterday, charged with swinging an axe at another resident of the rooming house where he lives.

Police said Brower allegedly swung the axe at Robert A. Brockway after Brockway interceded on an argument between Brower and the landlady, Elda Mae Young.

Brockway told police Brower then lunged at him and imbedded the axe in a wall at the rooming house. The axe was still there when an officer arrived.

Brower was held on $1,100 bail.

Cool Cash Isn't Really Very Safe

A burglar entered the canteen at Redwood High School during the weekend and took $376.30 in cash, which had been stored in the refrigerator, Corte Madera police were told today.

The money was discovered to be missing when school opened. The door to the canteen and the small lock on the refrigerator were both locked, police said, but it would have been possible to spring the small padlock and then close it again.

Police said numerous employees, including students who worked in the canteen, had keys to the canteen door.

He was arrested by San Rafael police Oct. 15.

Children's Fund Talk Signals U.N. Birthday

United Nations official Paul Edwards of New ork yesterday told 200 Marinites, including about 70 high school students, that a job with the children's fund of the world organization would be "one of the most spiritually rewarding careers possible."

Edwards, public information director for the United Nations Children's Fund (UNICEF), spoke at the First Presbyterian Church in celebration of the United Nations' 19th anniversary.

Spelling out in detail how the children's fund operates, Edwards stressed that it enters a nation only at government request, then phases out its work within a few years, either by handing the project over to local people or by eliminating the problem it was asked to deal with.

He urged the young people in his audience to hope that, by the turn of this century, men will spend as much time helping each other as they have throughout history fighting each other.

Speaking of other welfare organizations such as CARE and the Red Cross, Edwards insisted there is little or no duplication of effort among them. The combined work of all such groups is a "drop in the bucket" compared with the need of the peoples in many lands, he declared.

The United Nations Day program was sponsored by the Marin County Chapter of the U.N. Assn., the League of Women Voters, Marin Parent-Teacher Association, the American Assn. of University Women, and the YWCA.

DRAMA REVIEW

Laughter Spills Over 'A Thousand Clowns'

By KARL BARRON

Like the little car in the circus whose door opens and out come "A Thousand Clowns," the play of the same name burst onto the Festival Theater Stage in San Anselmo this weekend.

Five Festival stalwarts, and a talented 13-year-old rollicking commentary on modern man's condition a night of continual laughs—interspersed with some serious thought.

"A Thousand Clowns" plays Wednesday, Friday and Saturday nights at 8:30, and Sunday at 7:30. It is scheduled to run through Dec. 6.

Gardner, creator of the Nebbishes, has taken as his protagonist Murray Burns, a TV script writer who epitomizes the non-conformist all of us might like to be. He eschews work, and lives in a happy shambles with Nicky, his brilliant 12-year-old nephew, whose mother "went downstairs for a pack of cigarettes, and came back briefly six years later."

The simple plot has the Welfare Board (the villian) attempting to take custody of Nicky from Murray because of their unorthodox way of life.

Murray, played on Broadway by Jason Robards Jr., is a demanding role. In it Robert Cowell, who has been song-and-dancing his way across our hearts for years in Straw Hat Revues, comes into his own as a dramatic actor. His timing, his steadily burning inner fire and his originality of characterization make Murray a flashing gem. May we quote a lady from the audience talking to Cowell after the show?

Though Murray shoulders the major load, Nicky must ring true to balance the show, and the difficult protrayal of this precocious but likeable youngster is in the capable hand of 13-year-old Douglas Gower. He runs the gamut from belly laughs to angry hysteria with seasoned aplomb.

The show's only woman is Dr. Sandra Markowitz, psychiatric case worker who goes from welfare board to Murray's bed. Marjorie Casebier, delightful throughout, is particularly spectacular in a scene which must run 10 minutes, and through which she weeps violently and manages to keep the audience convulsed with laughter.

Bob Wood as Albert Amundsen seemed to me to slide into a two-dimensional caricature at times, but made the role believeable.

Louis Bennett, back after missing several shows, is warmly sincere as Arnold Burns, successful theatrical agent who manages to live with himself despite this. Rounding out the cast is Bob Chiappari, whose fear-ridden, complex-laden little TV star is right out of real life video.

Gardner's dialogue is filled with howling quickies, such as Murray's shocked comment on finding his apartment cleaned and decorated: "My God, I've been attacked by the Ladies' Home Journal!" And certainly, Gardner's world and the play are described in Arnold's appraisal: "There are people who spill things, and there are people who have things spilled on them."

If you like having lots of laughter spilled on you, don't miss "A Thousand Clowns."

Supervisors Due Canal Request

The Marin County Board of Supervisors is scheduled to get a request from Mill Valley tomorrow that the county get moving to acquire private land needed to permit development of Saucelito Canal.

In a letter to the board the city said it has requested an extension of time for the completion of its Marina because of county action.

The extra time "has been made necessary by the county's recent action in adopting a master plan for Richardson Bay, which changed the alignment of the Saucelito Canal from public land to private land," the city said.

The Army Corps of Engineers issued a warning to supervisors last Tuesday that the corps would issue a stop-work order unless the county submitted a report on its plans on the canal project by Nov. 15.

Other items on the agenda include a report from the Stanford Research Institute on economic development of Marin County, covering recreation, and the opening of bids for development of Paradise Park.

San Rafael Condominium Plans Agenda

The San Rafael Planning Commission Tuesday will consider a tentative subdivision map for land on Biscayne Drive in Peacock Gap asked for an 82 unit condominium development.

The land, west of the golf clubhouse, would be divided into four lots. Land owner is Peacock Gap, Inc. Subdivider is D. M. Christiansen, and engineer is Dan E. Coleman Associates.

The commission, meeting at 7:30 p.m. at city hall, will also consider Harold Bennett's request for a permit to allow a 71-foot radio tower at the rear of his house at 61 Crestwood Drive.

Another one of the 15 items on the agenda is the request for architectural approval of 12 office units proposed by Edward Hageman at the southeast corner of Lincoln and Paloma avenues.

Inmate Is Treated For Stabs

San Quentin Prison inmate Herman Eyrich, 28, walked into the prison hospital at 10:30 a.m. yesterday and reported he had been stabbed in the left arm.

Eyrich was treated for two cuts and four scratches on his arm.

Associate Warden James W. L. Parks said Eyrich reported the attack occurred as he was leaving his cell during the daily unlocking of cells prior to lunch, but would give no other detals.

Parks said officials found no weapon. Their only information, he said, is that "a fairly sharp instrument" was used to cut through Eyrich's shirt.

Eyrich has been at the prison since August. He is serving a five-years-to-life sentence on a Butte County conviction for first degree burglary.

Car Market Proposal Due Novato Planners Tonight

The Novato Planning Commission will consider the master plan for the Novato Auto Mart when it meets at 8 p.m. today in the Community House.

Harry Heifetz et al submitted the plan for the planned commercial development on 25 acres west of Highway 101 and North of Novato Creek.

The same developer is asking rezoning from limited agricultural and single-family dwelling to planned commercial for another 25 acres in the same area for the Scottsdale Shopping Center.

The commission will consider rezoning from limited agricultural to single family dwelling of parts or all of 12 subdivisions which have not been rezoned.

Other items to be considered include the tentative map of Meadowbrook Estates of four acres at Vineyard and Center Road, subdivisions requested by George B. Richardson for three lots at 91 Half Moon Road and Charles M. Clark for three lots at 70 Half Moon Road, and the application of Bill Allen for a self-service car wash on First Street north of the Post Office.

Tiburon Council To Seek Flood Solution

The Tiburon City Council will meet at 8 p.m. today at Del Mar School to consider a drainage project to stop flooding on Tiburon Boulevard near Cove Road during winter rains.

Also on the agenda are consideration of a Harbor Cove dredgeing permit for the small portion of salt works canal which is within city limits, and a taxi franchise ordinance.

Spook May Have Sticky Fingers

Someone spooked a haunted house Saturday, stealing a purse and a makeup kit.

San Rafael police said the thefts were reported from a house at 513 B Street which had been decorated as a Halloween haunted house in a fund-raising activity of the Jolly Rogers Chapter of Children's Home Society.

Joyce E. Freeman of 57 Willow Avenue, Fairfax, reported her purse containing $37 was taken. Mary I. Dehnert of 116 Bretano Way, Greenbrae, reported theft of a theatrical makeup kit worth $25.

Lyndon Tells Of Shock Over Jenkins

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Lyndon B. Johnson says that when he first heard that a question had been raised about Walter W. Jenkins' morals "I was as shocked as if someone had told me that my wife had murdered her daughter."

The president asked his longtime top aide to resign on Oct. 14 within hours after Jenkins' two arrests on moral charges became public. Johnson was asked about the Jenkins case during a recorded television interview aired Saturday night by the Democratic National Committee.

As for the Bobby Baker case, Johnson said "I am sure that if there had been any laws violated that the matter will be presented to the proper authorities. Mr. Baker will be called to account and his side of the case will be heard and appropriate action will be taken."

Baker resigned under fire a year ago as secretary to Senate Democrats. Senate investigators have been looking into his financial dealings.

Nobel Winner's Trip Barred

JOHANNESBURG (AP)—Albert Luthuli, winner of the 1960 Nobel Peace Prize, has given up hope of attending a dinner in New York City, where he was to receive an award.

Friends said Luthuli has not received a reply from the South African government to his application for permission to leave the country.

Luthuli, a Negro, has been a bitter foe of the government's policy of rigid racial segregation.

Larkspur police found a Santa Venetia youth's motorcycle yesterday a block from the spot from which he had reported it stolen Saturday night.

Three-Auto Wreck Hurts Two Women

Two women, one about to have a baby, suffered minor injuries in a three-car accident on a private road in front of the Big G Supermarket in Sausalito at 5:15 p.m. Saturday.

The California Highway Patrol said the accident involved cars driven by Jean Ann Brebner, 41, of 317 South Street, Sausalito; Dreena M. Stevens, 26, of 530 Easterby Street, Sausalito, and Guy O. Dowden Jr., 58, of San Francisco.

The patrol said the Brebner car made a turn on to the private road from the grocery store parking lot, hit the Stevens cars and knocked it into the Dowden car as the latter two were passing in opposite directions.

Slightly hurt were Mrs. Stevens, who is expecting a baby in a few days, and Barbara Thomas, 18, of 532 Easterby, Sausalito, a passenger in the Stevens car. Both said they would consult their own doctors.

The accident was investigated by the patrol because it was first thought to have happened outside Sausalito city limits. Later, however, it was determined that it was in the city.

Castro Worried By Housing Lack

MIAMI (UPI) -- Premier Fidel Castro said last night that Cuba's "urgent" housing shortage cannot be resolved by his communist regime before 1990 at the earliest.

In a 90-minute speech to a construction congress in Havana, which was monitored here, the Cuban leader said if at least two million living units — in houses and apartments—can be built during the next 24 years, the island's presently estimated needs will be met.

He quoted from a report submitted by the construction industry. It said that at present "there is a shortage of 650,000 living units for 3.5 million persons." Cuba's population is estimated at eight million.

Tormenting Rectal Itch Stopped In Minutes

Science Finds New Healing Substance That Promptly Stops Itching and Pain of Piles

New York, N. Y. (Special) — One of the most common afflictions is a condition known as "itching piles." It is most embarrassing for the victim during the day and especially aggravating at night.

No matter what you've used without results — here's good news. For the first time, science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to promptly stop the burning itch and pain. It actually shrinks hemorrhoids — without surgery. Medical science has proved this substance produces a remarkably effective rate of healing. Its germ-killing properties also help prevent infection.

In one hemorrhoid case after another "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by a doctor's observations. This improvement was maintained in cases where a doctor's observations were continued over a period of months! Among these sufferers were a wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' duration.

The secret is this new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®) — discovery of a world-famous research institution. This substance is now obtainable in ointment or suppository form known as Preparation H®. Ask for Preparation H Suppositories (convenient to carry if away from home) or Preparation H Ointment with special applicator. Available at all drug counters.

Sales Machines Now Gone At Redwood High

Food and candy vending machines have disappeared from Redwood High School's covered eating area as suddenly as they appeared.

Installed to relieve congested canteen service windows, the machines were owned and operated by a private business concern. The high school received a small share of the profits as rent on the space.

Mrs. Emma Wulzen, dean of girls, called their success as a "yes and no proposition," for although they solved the service problem fairly well, they were "attractive for vandalism and suffered their share of mechanical difficulties."

Tony Rousseau, new director of canteen operations for the Tamalpais Union High School District, initiated removal of the machines. Then he adequately manned the canteen. Directional signs such as "express window for soft drinks, candy and potato chips, ice cream and pastries," and organized student lines have added to order at the covered eating area.

As the volume of student business is directed back to the nonprofit canteen, the students themselves are gaining a "profit," he explained—in the form of lower prices and a wider assortment of food.

The world's first postage stamp appeared in 1840, and was issued by Great Britain. Before that time the fee had to be collected in cash from the person who received it.

CLIP AND SAVE

The easiest way for anyone to deal with an electrical failure at home is to make simple preparations for it. Keep a flashlight handy. Know the location of your main service switch and "fuse box" or branch circuit panel (ask the man of the house about that tonight). Keep spare fuses in an easy-to-reach place. Then, if your lights go out, you're ready to do something about it.

Is a fuse blown?

If you have no electricity anywhere in the house, look at the neighboring houses. If their windows are dark, there may be a local power equipment failure. Call us and we'll restore service. If the lights or appliances fail in one or two rooms only, either a branch circuit fuse has blown or a circuit breaker has opened. If service fails in a large part of the house, the trouble is probably due to one of the "main" fuses blowing out or the opening of a circuit breaker.

Remove the cause first.

If one of your fuses is blown or a circuit breaker opens, remove the cause first. Disconnect any electric cords that are broken, frayed, have no insulation or have loose ends at the plug (these should be repaired). Disconnect large appliances where too many may be connected to the same circuit or outlet plug.

Check the fuse box.

If the branch circuit panel is a fuse type, then examine your fuses. Replace any fuse which has a smoked-up window or melted metal strip inside with one of the same amperage. It's easy to remove screw-in type fuses. Use 15-ampere fuses for regular circuits. A 20-ampere fuse may be used in the circuit supplying electricity to the kitchen.

If the branch circuit panel is equipped with "circuit breakers," which are "on" and "off" switches with an overload trip, restore service by following instructions printed on the switch or panel. Many homes today have both fuses and circuit breakers.

Check the main switch.

If your lights are still off, check your main switch. If it is the fuse type, the switch should be turned "off" before you replace a fuse. Main fuses may be either screw-in type or cartridge type. If after checking these fuses or circuit breakers, your lights still won't work, call us. Or—if you have any doubts about the problem or the solution, give us a call.

Helpful tips.

If your electricity is off for any period, don't open your refrigerator or freezer. Frozen foods will stay frozen longer if the freezer door is kept closed. If the food starts to thaw, add dry ice. And don't forget: when electric service is restored, reset electric clocks.

PG & E is ready to help.

Obviously, problems will arise which aren't covered here. For example, you may have repeated fuse problems. This probably indicates inadequate wiring, or faulty electrical equipment. An electrical contractor should be consulted. If electric power is off for any reason and you are unable to restore it yourself, telephone our nearest office. A serviceman will call to restore service.

Our greatest service

Providing dependable gas and electric service at the lowest rates is our most important job. Since 1961 there have been 3 major reductions in PG&E rates. Today, the typical PG&E household customer pays less than 30 years ago for the same amount of gas and electricity. Which means PG&E service is a bigger bargain than ever.

CHILDREN SEE PLAYMATE HIT BY CAR

Corte Madera Police Officer Harvey Zion watches as 6-year-old Terry Smith of 8 Estrada Lane, Corte Madera, is comforted by driver of car which hit him on Paradise Drive at its intersection with Seawolf Passage and El Camino Drive yesterday. The car driver, Mrs. Sally Brandon, 32, of 649 Bamboo Terrace, Terra Linda, said the boy ran in front of her auto unexpectedly. Police said a six-foot fence obscured her view. Terry was examined at Marin General Hospital and treated at Letterman General Hospital in San Francisco for head injuries. (Photo by James C. Dukes)

LBJ Charges Opponents With 'Wild Charges,' Radical Aims

COMBINED AP & UPI

President Lyndon B. Johnson, campaigning in the South, accused his opponents today of using "wild charges and impulsive statements" in hopes they can gain office and "radically change the American way of life."

Johnson said there is only one course open to the voters on Nov. 3.

"We must crush this threat to American life," he said. "We must restore the health of our two-party system. And we must get on with the work of building America."

In effect, he said, "The South will rise again," and promised to help out in that direction.

The President at Jacksonville, Fla., hit directly at his campaign opponents, but without mentioning Barry Goldwater, his Republican rival.

Said Johnson: "Under the wild charges and impulsive statements of the opposition is hiddent a deadly serious intention. They would initiate policies which would radically change the American way of life as we know it."

Earlier Johnson, after leaving the speaker's stand at Orlando, walked along the lengthy fence that had been erected temporarily to hold back the crowd. A surge of people from the rear collapsed the fence and the first few rows, composed mainly of children, buckled toward the President. But he gingerly stepped aside and was unhurt. Police held back the crowd as he departed.

GOLDWATER

At Salisbury, Md., Goldwater, keynoting the windup week of his presidential campaign, told a Maryland crowd today he is "scared stiff" at the prospect of Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey ever becoming president.

Goldwater said also that as long as President Johnson is in the White House "we will never see Bobby Baker investigated . . . see how far this rot goes," nor clear up the Billie Sol Estes case.

The GOP nominee also said flatly Johnson "is not doing the job of the president in either world affairs or on the domestic scene."

Goldwater said the voters should keep vice presidential choices in mind when they make their decision a week from Tuesday. Goldwater said he and his running mate, Rep. William E. Miller, agree on a conservative philosophy, and the New York congressman could carry on the work of a GOP administration.

"I'm not worried about Bill Miller," he said. "But I'm scared stiff about Hubert Humphrey."

DEATH THREAT

At Miami, a young folk singer, described as an avid hunter and owner of "a couple of guns," faced a hearing today on a charge of threatening President Johnson's life.

Paul S. Black, 26, was picked up here late Saturday — less than 24 hours before the President arrived.

The Secret Service refused to divulge any details of the arrest or tell when the alleged threat on Johnson's life was made.

MILLER

At Marietta, Ga., Rep. William E. Miller charged today that President Johnson was guilty of "the worst political deceit ever perpetrated" by depicting Sen. Barry Goldwater as a "saber rattler."

Miller flew into the South to begin a swing that will take him through 20 states in a closing drive for votes.

HUMPHREY

At Chicago, Humphrey, fresh from a campaign respite in his home state of Minnesota, attacked the Republican presidential campaign today. He said the United States cannot risk the leadership of Goldwater.

Humphrey said there can be no "instant victory" in the cold war.

"By every standard of American life, Senator Goldwater is a radical — he preaches and practices the doctrine of radicalism," Humphrey said.

KNOWLAND

Former California Senator William F. Knowland predicts that Sen. Goldwater will be elected President Nov. 3, carrying the key states of California, Illinois, Indiana and Ohio and the entire South. He said he had traveled in 20 states on behalf of Goldwater and had found the American people "deeply troubled and deeply concerned."

LADY BIRD

Campaigning Lady Bird Johnson said today in Beaumont, Tex., her husband, "a mighty good man to have around in an emergency," is filling the office of president with ideas and experience, not slogans and rhetoric.

The Long Beach, Calif., Independent, a morning newspaper, and the evening Press-Telegram, both Ridder Publications Inc., today endorsed President Johnson.

The Sioux Falls (S.D.) Argus-Leader, which has backed the Republican national ticket in previous years, said yesterday it would refuse to endorse either of this year's presidential choices and Nebraska's largest newspaper, the Omaha World-Herald, yesterday withheld endorsement of either presidential candidate, saying neither President Johnson nor Sen. Goldwater "has revealed an impressive, inspiring statesmanship."

Remodeling On School Agenda

School remodeling will be the main topic before the Novato Unified School District board when it meets at 8 p.m. today in the district administration building.

Trustees will discuss remodeling of Hill Junior High School and Novato High School and site development at Rancho School.

Improvement of lighting at Hill Junior High and Olive and Rancho elementar yschools will also be discussed.

African Students Attempt To Burn U.S. Embassy

KHARTOUM, Sudan (AP) — Sudanese squads guarded government buildings and the U.S. Embassy today to forestall further riotous demonstrations by university students who stoned windows of the embassy and attempted to burn it over the weekend. Shops owned by foreigners also were attacked.

Five days of disorders have left at least six persons dead and 71 injured; no Americans were among the casualties.

The attack on the U.S. Embassy appeared prompted at least in part by its location on the route from the university to the palace, which evidently was the goal of most of the anti-moslem marchers.

McInnis Hits Leydecker For 'Bluster'

John F. McInnis, candidate for county supervisor, told a KTIM radio audience yesterday that his opponent, Supervisor Byron W. Leydecker, was relying on "noise and bluster to cover his lack of knowledge of the district."

McInnis quoted Leydecker as saying San Rafael had paid for two unworkable master plans and now was presenting a third.

"San Rafael," said McInnis, "has had one preliminary plan and now has a completed master plan which had been characterized by experts as an excellent plan.

"BEYOND FACT"

"I cannot account for my opponent's attitude in his continued statements beyond the area of fact except for a lack of background due to his short residence in the district.

"He has stated that he initiated the cooperative efforts on San Pedro Road improvements," McInnis continued. "This is not true. This work was initiated by requests from the City of San Rafael and the cooperation of the late Walter Castro, then supervisor, before my opponent was a resident here."

McInnis charged that county planning has been on a spot basis and "in the year and one-half that Mr. Leydecker has been in office, he has made no effort to correct the situation."

PAY QUESTION

The mayor said Leydecker supported a $5,000 per year raise for the county administrator but "made no effort to help define the county administrator's duties or to invest him with any real authority to carry out his work."

"As a member of the Governor's Planning Advisory Board, I was appointed Friday, chairman of the most sensitive committee on city, county planning in California," said McInnis. "I believe my 12 years experience and this statewide recognition of my ability qualifies me to do a constructive job for Marin."

Hub Council To Consider Plan Appeal

San Anselmo City Council will consider an appeal on the city planning commission's refusal to grant a two-and-one-quarter-inch setback variance when it meets at 8 p.m. tomorrow in the city hall.

The setback variance was requested by the firm of Ribeiro and Watson for a house in their Jackman Oaks subdivision. The setback on the house in question is two and a quarter inches less than the five feet required.

The councilmen will look at the test marks of applicants for a vacancy on the police force and will consider appointment of one of them.

The council will also hear two more appeals on planning commission decisions, one on a request for a lot split on Oak Avenue, the other for a zoning change at 21 Lincoln Avenue.

The council will hear requests for permission to pave a parkway at 11 Meadowcroft Way, for sidewalk encroachments at 24 Longview Avenue and 26 Humboldt Avenue, for help in setting up Christmas decorations in the business district and the Hub, for approval of a final subdivision may from Robert Toquinto, for permission to provide transportation for city employees going to a 10-week course at Fairfield to study the state uniform building code.

Councilmen will schedule interviews with prospects for the position of fulltime recreation director. They will also consider an amended plan for sewer line in Bay Counties Subdivision.

Bad Checks Cost 180 Days In Jail

Blasts Shatter Texas Industrial Complex

ORANGE, Tex. (AP)—A series of gas explosions rocked two of a string of six petro-chemical plants near this southeast Texas oil city Sunday.

Two workers were killed and 17 injured, only one seriously.

Ruptures in pipelines carrying highly volitile gas apparently caused the blasts, but company officials said they were unrelated. Neither firm shares any facilities.

The first explosions ripped the Spencer Chemical Co. plant after a leak developed in a line carrying highly volitle ethylene gas under a pressure of 25,000 pounds per square inch.

Gas fogging the area ignited and the shock broke windows at Bridge City, five miles distant. Flames soared 150 feet high and were visible 25 miles to the west at Beaumont. Also nearby is the World Was II disaster scene of Texas City.

"The whole roof of the building just came off," one man said.

Sixteen of 26 men working the night shift at Spencer suffered burns, cuts from flying glass and debris, and shock.

A company clock was jarred to a standstill at 7:30 p.m.

About three hours later, a series of perhaps five explosions injured three men at the nearby Allied Chemical Co., when an automatic safety valve blew off on a line carrying oxide or ethylene gas.

The two plants are separated by a 300-acre industrialy site.

Police barricaded roads and entrances through chain-link fences within a five-mile radius of entire plant complex—named Chemical Row—as firemen sped from surrounding areas tof ight flames.

Fires at both plants were brought under control, and thousands of pounds of dry ice were packed around lies to solidify escaping gas and allow repair of the breaks.

No newsmen were permitted on the scene, but reports told of building walls collapsing and windows shattering.

Carroll Lee Carr, 29, and employee at the Spencer plant, was killed. A fellow worked, Clyde Matthews, Jr., 31, died in the hospital later of burns.

Some School Classifying Called Negative Approach

Classifying children according to learning ability is a negative approach to education, a psychologist told the Marin County School Boards Assn. Saturday night at the group's annual meeting.

Prof. George Sheviakov of the psychology department at San Francisco State College told the trustees: "We cannot stereotype children. Each one learns differently."

Children placed in a lower group because they show slowness in certain kinds of learning soon learn to accept their "dumb" status, said the psychologist.

This kind of classification is not always based on the truth said Sheviakov, because children learn at different levels and in different ways.

Sheviakov pointed out that many great public figures were at one time considered slow or average learners by their teachers, naming Patrick Henry, Sir Winston Churchill, and John F. Kennedy as examples. Even Einstein had trouble with figures, said the educator.

Certain Listings Of Race Struck Down By High Court

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The U.S. Supreme Court today struck down as unconstitutional Virginia laws requiring the listing of race on the state's voting, poll tax and real estate assessment lists.

The court, however, left standing a state requirement that parties to a divorce decree specify their race.

The actions came in a brief order affirming decision of a three-judge federal court in Alexandria, Va., last April 28. A court order deals only with the question of whether the high tribunal will accept a case for hearing. It does not consist of any formal opinions.

On the issue of divorces, the judges in Alexandria held that the state was entitled to obtain such information to compile vital statistics. But they also held that the racial listing in the other categories were unconstitutional.

In today's action, Justice John M. Harlan was listed as believing the court should have heard arguments on all of the issues. Justice William J. Brennan Jr. indicated he would have liked to have heard the issue of divorce listings.

The Virginia laws were challenged by a group of Negro and white citizens from the Washington, D.C., suburban counties of Arlington and Fairfax, and the city of Alexandria.

Defendants were city and county election board members, registrars and other local officials.

The court in a brief session also denied hearings to men from four states who are facing execution. The rejected appeals came from:

Hassie Cane Martin, convicted of murder in Kentucky.

Police said their victim, Wendell J. McQuinn of 28 Timothy Avenue, San Anselmo, stopped a passing patrolmen and complained that the squirt in his face had nearly caused him to hit a child who was crossing the street.

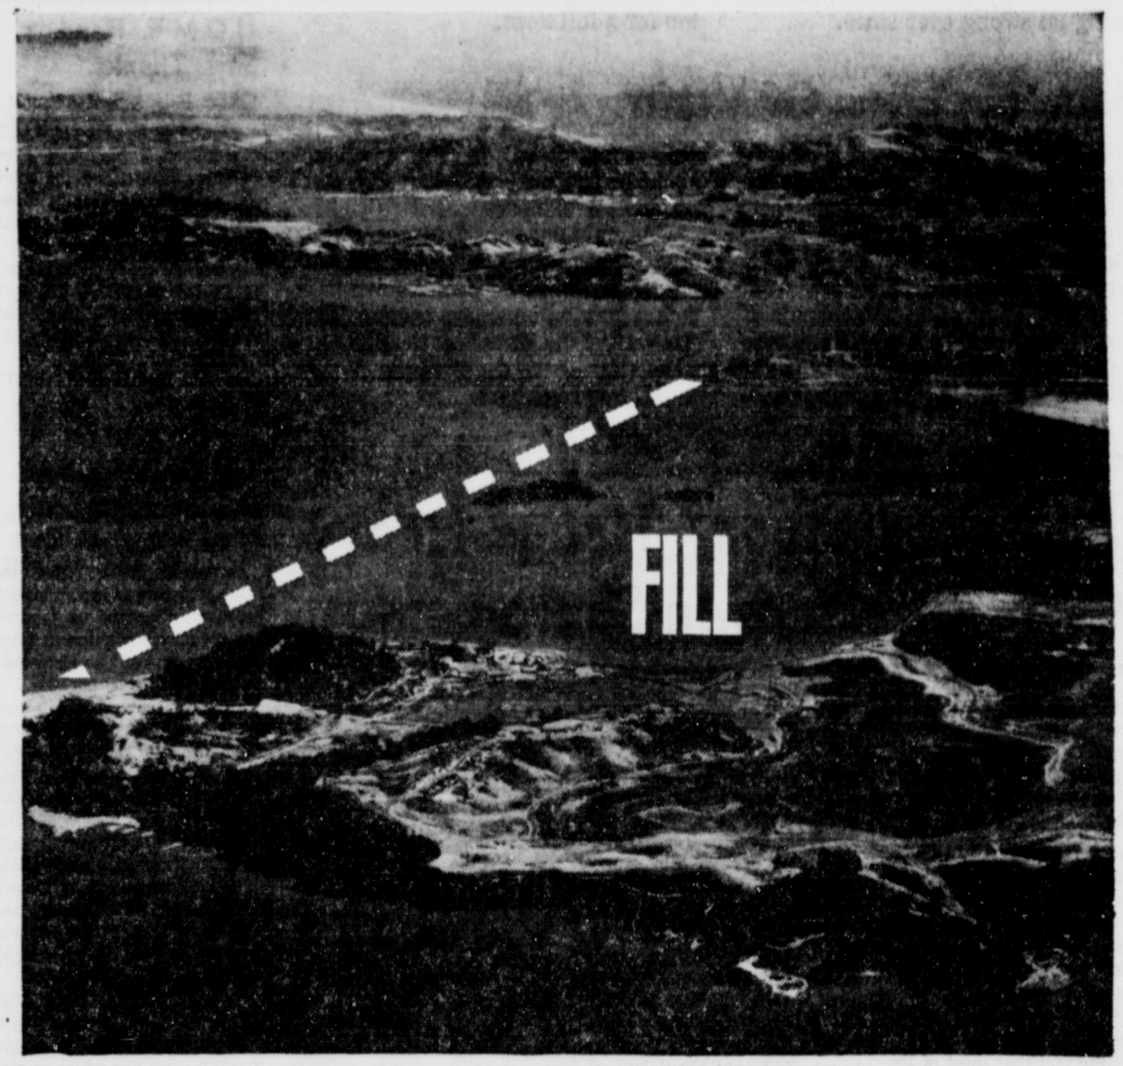
TO FILL ???



San Rafael plans to fill, on a percentage basis, more of its tidelands than any other city on the Bay–2,000 acres. A substantial portion of these tidelands are owned by a business associate, so it's no wonder my opponent's position on bay fill was repudiated (10-1) by the Marin Council of Mayors and Councilmen.

or NOT TO FILL!!!

Marin's greatest natural resource is Beauty, says Leydecker. Once you mar that beauty, as in the above plan, there is no turning back. Byron Leydecker supports a State imposed moratorium NOW prohibiting fill pending an over all bay development plan. To proceed on bay fill with a developer's-interest-only program would be a tragic waste of our County's beauty and the economic resource it represents.

Rep. Don Clausen Deserves Return To Washington

His original opponent, the late Congressman Clem Miller, had been killed in an airplane accident during the campaign.

Clausen virtually stopped campaigning as of that moment. Miller's supporters whipped up an emotional campaign which saw the deceased pile up a huge plurality at the polls.

In the subsequent special election, Clausen rode to stunning victory which saw him carry all six counties in the vast First Congressional District, defeating the Democratic candidate who had been Congressman Miller's aide.

Don Clausen went to Congress well after the session had started. It fell to him to have to "jump aboard a moving train," so to speak.

It wasn't easy.

Had he faltered or fumbled a bit, it would have been excusable.

But he did NOT falter or fumble.

He came through that trying initial period with flying colors and has been coming on strong ever since.

He won appointment to the important Rivers and Harbors subcommittee, which puts him in position to give all-important aid and assistance to water development and flood control projects so important to Marin and the rest of the First District.

He played a key part in gaining congressional approval of substantial appropriations for Point Reyes National Seashore land acquisition and development. This turned out to be one of several instances wherein he gave effective support to key conservation efforts.

When rocket testing was threatened at Paradise Cove, Clausen jumped into the fray and helped get it eliminated.

When loggers were busy on Point Reyes Seashore property, he helped come to the rescue.

He has been a good freshman legislator for the First District—more effective perhaps than we could have reasonably expected in view of having come into Congress "late," so to speak.

The First District will benefit most by returning Don Clausen to Washington for a full term.

Mountain Lions Of Marin

There have always been a couple mountain lions in our county. They are shy and fearful animals, despite their bad reputation.

Sometimes they are seen by the Air Force men who must travel to or from the radar station on Mt. Tamalpais at night. Traveling in a circle, these cougars cover about eight miles a night and return to their home base, probably somewhere on the mountain, about every third or fourth day. They usually travel alone.

Mountain lions are dangerous predators, killing sheep, calves and fawns, but they have never been known to attack a man without provocation. They are facing danger of extinction, and some states have dropped payment of bounties for cougars.

AFFAIRS OF STATE

Reapportionment Hangs Heavy Over 40 Heads In Sacramento

By EDWIN S. CAPPS

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — There's a pall that hangs over the normal meeting places of the politicians, state officials and the fringe areas in Sacramento these days.

EVEN THE ANTICIPATION, enthusiasm and occasional concern about the coming election fails to dispel it entirely.

It's about a club that's about to be disbanded; a college graduation where the classmates vow to keep in touch, knowing they won't.

It's the fact that most of the state senators have given up on reapportionment. They see little chance of congressional action to override the bomb that was dropped by the U. S. Supreme Court last June 15 when it said both houses of state legislatures must be apportioned solely on the basis of population.

For a while there was shock and the thought that something as devastating to California as this decision couldn't really come to pass. But that has passed largely by now. Senators have been to Washington; they have held meetings; they have discussed possibilities or compromises. And all the efforts have brought them to the same conclusion. The reapportionment edict will stand.

MOST OF THE AFFECTED senators were doing all right before they were elected to the State Senate. There is no reason to believe they won't continue to do so if they are legislated out of office.

A number of senators have their eyes on judgeships which they deserve. After all, they have served faithfully in making the laws and have rich experience to take to the bench. But only about half of the northern senators are attorneys and, for the rest, the courts offer no avenue.

Some senators, of course, may choose to run for office in the new districts. If this occurs, it may pit friend and colleague against each other.

If the State Senate is to be apportioned on a population basis, its make-up of 40 members might be expected to parallel that of the congressional delegation of 38 members. The present Senate has 32 members from the north and eight from the south. The congressional districts number 16 in the north and 22 in the south.

THERE'S ANOTHER element which is being overlooked by many as the fear of the moving of total control of the legislature to the southland develops. This is the politics of reapportionment.

Elbridge Gerry was governor of Massachusetts in 1812 and each 10 years returns to the position of a by-word around the legislature as the assembly and congressional districts are reapportioned. It's all done very fair and legally but the party in power has control over where the lines go.

Thus the marginal districts for the majority party are made safer. In areas where the opposition party is entrenched, they are weakened if there's a chance to beat the incumbent. If there's no chance to beat the minority legislator, the district is strengthened, taking the marginal elements of his district to bolster other districts for the majority party.

When the Republicans reapportioned in 1951, they wound up in the 1953 session with 53 of the 80 assemblymen and 29 of the 40 senators. Following the 1961 reapportionment by the Democrats, they elected 52 of the 80 assemblymen in 1963 and 27 of the 40 senators.

EVEN IF THE Democrats do much worse than expected on Nov. 3, they can't help but have a strong majority of the 1965 legislature. Thus, if reapportionment of the State Senate comes to be, it will only entrench the majority party deeper in control of the state.

Tiburon's Position On Incorporation

Editor, Independent-Journal:

In view of publicity given the Alto-Strawberry incorporation proposal, the City of Tiburon hopes that its position is clear to all citizens of The Peninsula not presently incorporated.

The City Council of Tiburon, in defining what it considered to be a zone of mutual interest, had no intention of putting "the squeeze" on unincorporated citizens. Let me quote from a letter sent to all civic groups in these areas, and please note that this letter is dated before the Tiburon City Council had any knowledge of Alto-Strawberry incorporation activity (emphasis added).

". . . The City Council has described what it believes is physically a natural geographic unity—and one which is also capable of political unity if such a course represents the ambitions of all concerned.

"It is not a peremptory notice of intent to annex or to exert extra-territorial influence. It does define, however, the limits which major planning by the city must extend if it is to be comprehensive and meaningful.

". . . within these limits, we feel, lies an area of social and economic homogeneity where it seems to us political unity could ultimately be mutually desirable. But that day will, of course, be selected by you."

Reader Urges No On Prop. 1

Editor, Independent-Journal:

It is certainly reasonable to develop the recreation area we already have, but for government to own any more than the half of California it already has is ridiculous. Thinking people will vote no on Proposition 1.

DAPHNE de RUTTE

(If voters realize how fast more people are pouring into California and how fast our beaches and forests are being gobbled-up for "development," they will want to vote YES on No. 1 for bond money to acquire beach and forest property to save it for future generations.—Editor)

Editor, Independent-Journal:

A big fat BRICKBAT to your otherwise fine newspaper!

Here's why:

President Truman's former Secretary of State James F. Byrnes (a Democrat) endorses Barry Goldwater and this gets only a squib on page two of the same edition.

Tsk, tsk!

Look At Backers Of State Propositions

Editor, Independent-Journal:

When so many propositions appear on the ballot that it seems an impossible task to study all of the ramifications of each one, it helps to look at the sponsors and supporters in each case. If a proposition has the backing of organizations and individuals who have shown an unselfish concern for their community, it is probably sound.

However, most of us would look askance at any proposal that draws support from such groups as the American Nazi Party or the White Citizens' Councils, or from a single industry or organization which does not represent a good cross section of the people.

Appeal Is Made For Moderation

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Despite occasional "inferences" to the contrary, I think it fairly reasonable to assume that not all who favor Proposition 14 are Negro-hating, white supremists of the far right and that not all who oppose the proposition are dissension-seeking opportunists of the extreme left.

I realize of course that some readers will be willing to accept only one of these assumptions on the grounds that the other has not been scientifically established as a fact.

Nevertheless, I have fervent hope that the vast majority of the readers have already found both assumptions suitable and practical as "working hypotheses." Otherwise we are indeed in bad shape!

Thanks Is Given On Zoning Stand

Editor, Independent-Journal:

The Kentfield Civic League wishes to publicly thank the Marin County Board of Supervisors and the Planning Commission for their stands against an application for rezoning of residential property at the intersection of Sir Francis Drake Boulevard and Wolfe Grade, between Marin Catholic High School and Wolfe Grade Grammar School.

Our concern is not so much with the inevitable growth of the commercial interests in Kentfield, but rather with the seemingly disproportionate rate of growth of recreational facilities for our families and for our children.

We feel strongly that every effort should be made now, while the Kentfield Master Plan is finally before the Board of Supervisors, to set aside such land as is practicable for recreational uses, such as parks, tennis courts, swimming pools and green areas.

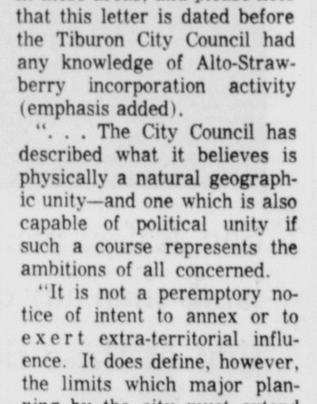
TRY AND STOP ME

BENNETT CERF

A DOCTOR TOLD a wan, run-down patient, "Look at the way your fingers are trembling. I insist that from now on you smoke just one cigar a day." A month later the patient was back looking worse than ever. "I must tell you, Doctor," he quavered, "I never smoked before in my life, and that one-cigar-a-day routine you prescribed for me is nearly killing me!"



MRS. DINGLEDANGLE was distrait. "My poor husband," she sighed. "All he does these days is to go around cackling like a chicken." "Can't you do SOMETHING to cure him?" asked a sympathetic neighbor. "I suppose I could," admitted Mrs. Dingledangle, "but we need the eggs."

Congress, No-One Else, To Blame For Denying TV Reply To GOP

WASHINGTON — The public ought to fix the responsibility right where it belongs for the perfectly proper, legally inescapable, completely unfair denial of equal radio and TV time to Sen. Barry Goldwater to comment on the same events which President Lyndon B. Johnson discussed in his foreign crisis address.

The decision of the Federal Communications Commission applies faithfully and precisely the provisions of the Radio and TV Act. Mr. Johnson's report to the nation was a presidential duty, not a political speech. If the networks had volunteered the time for Goldwater to reply, they would be legally obligated to give equal prime time to all the peripheral candidates.

CORRECT DECISION. Bad law.

And who's to blame? Not the FCC, which has to execute the law, but the Congress of the United States, which made the law.

Congress threw away the opportunity to suspend this ill-conceived provision of the law which could have insured equal access to the air waves by the two candidates.

This law has proved itself an instrument of compulsory injustice and it ought to be not just suspended, but repealed.

It isn't President Johnson's fault that bad law has created such an example of unfairness.

BUT IT IS NOT necessary to compound incidental political advantages to the president by denying to the opposition candidate equal time on the networks to deal with the same events.

Dean Burch, chairman of the Republican National Committee, has weakened his argument by asserting that Mr. Johnson's telecast contained "no information" and contending that its "sole purpose was political."

Wrong on both points. What could be newer than the president's offer to extend the U. S. nuclear umbrella to nations like India, which may find themselves threatened by Peking's atomic weapons?

Congress has tried to compel fairness in political programming by slide-rule law. The controlling provision is the same as if newspapers were denied the right to publish the full texts of Johnson and Goldwater speeches unless they also published the full texts of the six minor candidates.

How much better it would be if Congress simply required the stations to be politically balanced and fair in their coverage—and put them on their honor to be so?

THE PRESIDENT of the United States cannot secede from his office during a campaign. His actions as president inevitably affect the campaign. But when he comments as president on events, it is only fair that the law should permit the opposition candidate to have the same free-time opportunity.

INSIDE WASHINGTON

Kremlin Triumvirate Was Nikita's Doom

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — Intelligence authorities are now convinced Nikita Khrushchev was overthrown by a three-man cabal, but only time will tell who emerges as the next Kremlin czar.

IT COULD BE ONE of the currently ruling triumvirate, or another of the inner Red moguls. There is no lack of ambitious aspirants.

One thing is certain: Sooner or later, the controlling reins will wind up in the hands of one individual.

Throughout the country's long and gory history, except for a few brief interludes, it has never been governed by a group or parliamentary system of any kind. Russia has always been ruled by some type of absolutism.

Only question in the latest upheaval is who will attain that dominance, and how.

Deemed the most likely prospect, in the opinion of intelligence experts, is the best known—Leonid Brezhnev, the 55-year-old new possessor of the all-powerful job of First Secretary of the Soviet Communist Party.

Brezhnev has yet to nail down this potentially immense power. It took Stalin a number of years and ferocious purges to do so. Brezhnev starts with one incalculable advantage. He is in the job.

Of the two other members of the cabal, one played a major role in Khrushchev's hectic and bloody rise to dominance.

MIKHAIL SUSLOV, 62, whose shadowy and fateful maneuvering and conspiring dating back to the despotic Stalin era have caused him to be known as the "mystery man of the Kremlin," is rated by some intelligence authorities as probably the most potent of the triumvirate.

Suslov knows where the bodies lie, and how and when best to use that.

He did it in behalf of Khrushchev in the fierce inner battling in 1956 that enabled him to ax Malenkov and Molotov, one-time close Stalinist associates of Suslov, and he did it again as a member of the cabal that knifed Khrushchev.

However, so little is known personally about him that any conjectures are largely guesswork. Even among knowledgable Communists, it's not known whether Suslov is married.

Nikolai Podgorny, third member of the cabal, is another close Khrushchev henchman who helped cut his throat when it served his purpose.

The 61-year-old Ukrainian, like his fellow conspirators a member of the Presidium of the Communist Party's Central Committee, is also chairman of the committee's Internal Security Affairs Commission, one of three key commissions—the other two significantly headed by Brezhnev and Suslov.

The trio dominate the Presidium and thereby the Central Committee. That's how they were able to depose their old buddy Khrushchev.

NEW PREMIER Alexei Kosygin, 58, is basically a party hack, and a figurehead. Once the power struggle is settled, Kosygin will scuttle quietly back to the sidelines from which he was plucked.

Fateful figures to keep an eye on are Dmitry Ustinov, a brilliant technician and administrator in charge of heavy military production, and Boris Ponomarev, head of the Foreign Communist Party Commission and close Suslov ally.

Should Ustinov be elevated to First Deputy Premier, Western military officials would fear that the new Soviet rulers are thinking in war terms regardless of their public "coexistence" professions.

Official county records showed that 20,230 motor vehicles were registered in Marin during the first half of 1944, including 18,163 automobiles and 98 motorcycles.

Marin County Engineer Carl Clow was instructed by county supervisors to draw up plans for an addition to the court house to make room for addressing machines used by the assessor's and tax collector's offices. Also needed was space to house 35,000 plates with names of county property owners.

Sausalito's City Hall council chambers has some new redwood half-walls which, unlike the old governmental green, give the participants in the daily drama a whale of a lot more color. Asked for a dress-up by city council, the Community Appearances Advisory Board recommended redwood.

Joy Baxes, fair police gal in Mill Valley, has taken up wearing long black stockings to keep her pins warm on the graveyard shift.

Police Officer Bob Dyche was explaining to a citizen by telephone what can be done about the hungry deer and suggested mountain lion scent, adding that the citizen must realize they live in a game reserve.

HANGING UP, HE added: "A lot of people move here to be in the country and then expect everything to be just like San Francisco except for trees. When raccoons knock over their garbage cans and deer appear, they get disturbed. I can't understand it."

Two Marin writers made Esquire this month. Carleton Williams, former I-J reporter, has a story, "The Constabulary Style," which Williams got material for while covering Marin police beats, and Evan S. Connell Jr. of Sausalito, who has written a short story, "The Corset."

Pat Arnold of City Hall telephoned Thursday to ask, "Which side is laughing . . . I mean Laffing?" She referred to the city's proposed annexation before the Local Agency Formation Commission, sometimes called the LAF Commission, and the attempt by Alto-Strawberry-Bel Aire citizens to block annexation.

ELIZABETH TERWILIGER dropped down off the mountain recently with a bird in hand. Dead, she said. It was a violet green swallow. "They are hard to see on the wing," she explained, meaning the bright colors.

Mrs. T. had been describing birds to Dixie School District pupils at Camp Alice Eastwood. She took us to her blue bus, where we found a Western Blue Bird, a Chukker (from India), a Fox Sparrow, a Murre, a Sora Rail and a Cormorant. "Look, isn't he a beauty?" she asked. He was.

Mrs. Terwiliger said people are always putting dead birds on her doorstep for her collection, which she keeps in her deep freeze to explain wonders of nature to youngsters and oldsters.

We talked to Miss W. Farquharson, who lives on the Sausalito boardwalk. Being a Scot, she said, she never gets tired of the water. She was born in Aberdeen, Scotland, which is on the water. "It's in my blood." Asked if she is a Miss or a Mrs., she said, "No, I missed and I'm glad." Do you sit on the beach? we asked. "No, it's never warm enough, but sometimes I collect rocks."

We talked to a substitute I-J newsboy last week, aged 11, who showed us his list of customers indicating where to put papers. In strong but squiggly boy writing, most of the locations were on steps, porches, drives or walks.

However, the Schroeders' at 57 Cornila (Cornelia) must be delivered "Up long steps and call 'Angle' (Angel). Dog gets paper."

The Killions' journal is to be thrown "over gate," the Hunts' on Summit to be placed at "Apt. O? ramp," the Trueloves' on the porch, and those people who live at Apt. 65 Summit should receive their paper "In cat door. If not open, on mat."

Soviet Education Progresses So Fast It's Hard To Keep Up

WASHINGTON — Probably the toughest thing to be in this world is a Soviet student. No matter how well you learn your lessons, it doesn't necessarily mean you're right.

FOR EXAMPLE, last week at People's School 113 in Moscow, a teacher was talking to his eighth grade class.

"Boys and girls, today the brave Soviet cosmonauts have returned from their glorious flight into space. The first question is: Who is the man who is responsible for this unbelievable feat?"

The children shout, "Comrade Khrushchev!"

"Why is Comrade Khrushchev responsible, little Vladimir?"

"Because, Comrade Teacher, he is our glorious leader, and he has sent our space ships into the heavens to show the decadent Western capitalist nations the Soviets are first in science."

"Little Boris, who is the greatest leader against the reactionary adventurist and chauvinist line of the Chinese government?"

"I don't know."

"STUPID LOUT, Boris. What do you mean, you don't know?"

"I'm not sure."

"Stay after class, Boris, and we will see if we can refresh your memory."

As he is talking, the principal comes in and whispers something into the teacher's ear. The teacher goes white.

Then he addresses the class again. "Now, once more. Who is the man who is responsible for our great victory over space?"

"Comrade Khrushchev," the class shouts.

"Idiots! How many times do I have to tell you? It is our glorious leader, Leonid Brezhnev, the enemy of the cult of personality and brother of the working classes."

"But it says in the book."

"NEVER MIND the book! They are all going to be confiscated. I am ashamed of all of you for not learning your lessons. The only one who has done his homework is little Boris. Little Boris will someday be a great Communist leader."

OTHER PEOPLE'S BUSINESS

By HARRY CRAFT

Bemiss, Ingalls Newly Licensed As Private Investigator Firm

A newly licensed firm of private investigators — Bemiss and Ingalls — doing business at 926 Irwin Street, San Rafael, has two well known former law enforcement men as its principals.

William H. Bemiss was investigator 10 years for the Marin County District Attorney's Office up to last April. Since then he has maintained his own business, dealing in attorney's services. He also saw service in prior years with banks, the Internal Revenue Department and as an inspector working on thefts and forgeries for the U. S. Post Office in San Francisco.

Since 1962, Alden L. (Bud) Ingalls has been handling marine, personal injury and accident investigations in San Francisco. Prior to that he had a private residential patrol at Lake Tahoe, which he sold—and before that served both as chief of police in Sausalito and as undersheriff for the late David Menary.

They are offering investigations on missing persons, personal injury, maritime, personnel background checks, as well as process serving, surveillance and service in other related fields.

FORMER U. S. Treasury agent Joe Rasonsky of 121 Hawthorn Way, Santa Venetia, who now does tax wark and teaches for the American Institute of Banking, has a new side business developed with the aid of his three school age sons, Albert, Joe Jr., and Dave.

They manufacture ski mitts for rope tows.

And by changing the last letter in Rasonsky they have come up with the appropriate name Rason-Ski Co. for this enterprise.

The ski mitt, with patent pending, is designed for hanging on to rope tows, thus saving wear and tear on expensive ski gloves. Under test, a mitt has lasted as long as three years. It can be flipped to the back of the wrist when not in use; does not have to be removed from the hand when a skier falls or a ski comes loose.

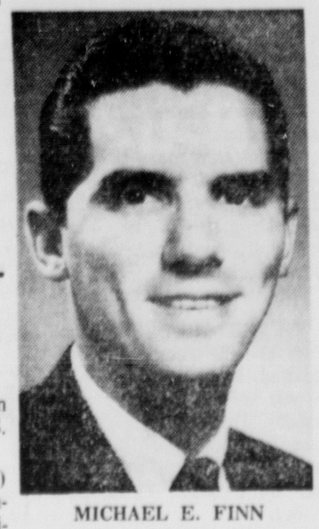
It will be distributed through stores selling ski equipment.

Rambler Sales Mark

DETROIT — The 1965 Rambler line is posting new records in overseas markets, according to Roy D. Chapin Jr., executive vice president in charge of international operations for American Motors Corp. Orders from export distributors already total 16,800 units, a 46 per cent increase over orders on hand at the same time last year, Chapin said.

Merchant To Speak

H. F. Brandt, general manager of the Emporium department store Northgate branch, will speak to a College of Marin retailing class on "Controlling Expenses in Retail Stores" at 10 a.m. Wednesday in Room 40, chemistry building, on the Kentfield campus.



MICHAEL E. FINN
Joins insurance firm

WILLIS L. WARNER
Given bank promotion

RICHARD W. FAGERSTROM of Terra Linda has joined Terence J. Grew of Lucas Valley to share Northern California representation for Stanline, Inc. of Los Angeles, distributor of acoustical and lighting products, and subsidiary of E. J. Stanton Co. The firm will move to larger quarters at 761 Bryant Street, San Francisco Nov. 1.

Fagerstrom was formerly with Pritchard and Stone, acoustical contractor. Grew has been lone Stanline area representative for two years.

DICK W. COX, president of Dahnken, Inc., San Rafael has added another man to his new store at 1295 Second Street. John Walkenhorst of Novato will be assistant to store manager Ray Edmondson. In new expanded Santa Rosa quarters, Cox's son-in-law Don Enger has become assistant to store manager Steve Neff.

WILLIS D. WARNER of Larkspur has been promoted to assistant vice president at Bank of California's San Francisco main office. He has been with the bank 11 years and was named assistant cashier in 1956.

MICHAEL E. FINN of San Rafael has joined the Marin staff of San Francisco Life Insurance Co. He has worked for newspapers and in the banking business in San Francisco far the past six years.

Finn bears a name well known in Marin history. His great-great grandparents Mr. and Mrs. John Finn, were one of Mill Valleys' early pioneer families.

MARIN MEMBERS of Minnesota Mutual Life's San Francisco area's office, E. J. Mitchell of Mill Valley and Nicholas J. Dollwet of San Rafael have been honored as company sales leaders.

New Start Asked For Bankrupted Yuba Steel Firm

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Hearings will start Nov. 23 on a proposal to reorganize the 10-million-dollar Yuba Consolidated Industries, Inc., and void all existing stock under the bankruptcy act.

U.S. District Judge George B. Harris set the hearing date last week after the reorganization was filed by the company bankruptcy trustee.

Class A creditors, persons with claims dating from March 1, 1960, would be repaid in full —an amount totaling 4.982-million dollars.

Class B creditors, whose with claims before March 2, 1960, would receive 72 per cent of their claims, or $1,032,000.

Class C creditors would get 42.48 per cent of their debentures of 2.6-million dollars.

Class A and B creditors would receive 10 per cent of the face value of their holdings in cash and the balance in a new common stock in a newly named Yuban Steel Products Corps.

Teague said the move is being made to "provide increasingly better service to our membership and to the California business community."

He also said the importance of governmental activity in business requires "closer working relationships with . . . government agencies."

Teague said 69 of 77 state departments "of vital importance to California's business" are located in Sacramento.

A state chamber building will be constructed on the Capitol Mall. Ground will be broken in December and occupancy is expected in September, 1965.

ROBERT I. LA DOW
Retires from McGraw-Hill

Publishing Executive Ends Career

Robert I. LaDow, former Corte Madera town councilman and McGraw-Hill Book Co. executive, has retired after 32 years with the firm to take a five-year trip around the world.

LaDow, 58, has been sales manager of McGraw-Hill's Gregg Publishing Division for the 11 western states for approximately 14 years, and a Marin resident for 15 years. He is selling his home at 641 Manzanita Avenue, Corte Madera. He retired from the Corte Madera Town Council last January because of ill health.

"I have been spending too much time in the hospital lately and I thought it was about time I stopped work and enjoyed myself," he said.

LaDow, a widower, said he will leave next February for South America, where he intends to spend a year. Another year will be spent traveling in the Orient, about a year in North Africa, and two years in Europe.

Before joining McGraw-Hill, LaDow taught business subjects at Iowa and Indiana universities. The Gregg division publishes all business material for the company.

Wrong-Way Vikings Bop 49ers

Independent-Journal Sports

13 Monday, Oct. 26, 1964

EXPLANATION? — A breathless Jim Marshall (70), Minnesota defensive end, tries to explain to teammates how he lost his sense of direction and ran 60 yards the wrong way to give the San Francisco 49ers a two-point safety yesterday. Fortunately for Marshall, his goof didn't change the outcome of the game, won by the Vikings 27-22.

The Minnesota Vikings can console themselves today with the old adage that he who laughs last laughs best.

That's because the Vikings emerged the victors by a 27-22 count yesterday over the San Francisco 49ers despite a wrong-way run that had the crowd of 31,845—and most of the 49er players—in stitches.

It all started in the tense fourth period, with the Vikings leading 27-17.

San Francisco quarterback George Mira rifled a pass to halfback Billy Kilmer for an apparent first down on the 49er 40-yard line. Then the fun started.

Defensive end Jim Marshall, a five-year pro veteran from Ohio State, snatched the ball from Kilmer and started downfield—toward the Viking goal line.

As the crowd shrieked in glee and his teammates exorted him from the bench to stop, the 235-pound Marshall lumbered goalward — unhampered by opposition tacklers.

As he crossed the goal he tossed the ball in the air and raised his arms in a victory gesture, then turned to accept a handshake—from a 49er player.

But Marshall's miscue, while more flashy, couldn't compare with the barrage of errors that spelled defeat for San Francisco. Despite outgaining the Vikings 398 yards to 215 overall, the 49ers literally threw the game away by yielding five interceptions and three fumbles.

Defensive end Carl Eller gave Minnesota the winning points when he loped 45 yards after picking up a Mira fumble.

Moments before, the Vikings had gained the lead for the first time when Fran Tarkenton scampered eight yards to score. That tally was set up by Roy Winston's interception, his third of the day, which gave the Vikings a first down at the 49er 11.

Brodie, who suffered four interceptions, scored the game's first touchdown from two yards out after the 49ers recovered a fumble on the Viking 15.

A 41-yard field goal by Fred Cox cut the margin to 7-3, but Brodie then connected with Dave Parks on a team record-equalling 80-yard pass play.

After the Vikings stormed 75 yards in six plays for their first touchdown, with Tommy Mason running it across from the seven, Tommy Davis booted a 37-yard field goal giving San Francisco a 17-10 half time edge.

Then came the second half and the play that Marshall—and the 49ers—would like to forget.

Yesterday's 49er-Viking Game Wasn't Elegant, But It Was Fun

Randol

Well, mateys, it wasn't very elegant, but it sure was a lot of fun! The San Francisco 49ers gave away another one at Kezar yesterday, but after the Minnesota Vikings had posted a 27-22 win there wasn't a fan who could say he had not received his money's worth.

For three quarters of the game quarterback John Brodie had the situation well in hand the Niners had a precarious four point lead. The Vikings were showing signs of musceling up and taking over so Coach Jack Christiansen answered with his secret weapon —George Miro for John Brodie.

TROUBLE IS, Mira is no longer a secret. The Vikes picked off George's very first pass and rammed it down his throat for the go-ahead score.

Five plays after the ensuing kickoff, George held the ball too long—or not long enough if you want to be technical—and the Vikings picked up his fumble and romped 65 yards for the clincher.

Four more plays and up popped the laugher that will have football fans screaming long after the score of this particular contest is forgotten. Viking defensive end Jim Marshall scooped up a Bill Kilmer fumble and gaily romped 40 yards into the end zone, threw the ball in the air with sheer delight, and then discovered he had run the wrong way and had scored two points for the 49ers!

IT MUST be close to 40 years since Roy Riegels pulled that one in the Rose Bowl, and he didn't even make it to the end zone. People still talk about that one, and when a pro pulls the same stunt complete with built-in histronics, you can imagine the reaction to come.

If it weren't so pathetic, the show Marshall put on on the sidelines after he realized his error should be added to the film clips for posterity. If only we could have a sound track!

As a game, this one had its exciting moments, but it will never go down in history as a perfect example of professional play. One thing is for sure; neither of these teams will ever be champions of anything if they repeat their sorry showings. The wonder is that these same Vikings are the only team to beat the Baltimore Colts this year.

HAD THE 49ers pulled this one out, and they came within a few inches of doing so in the last two minutes, it would have gone into the records as an upset to go along with the rest of the results in NFL play.

On the bottom of each division are last year's champs, the Chicago Bears and the New York Giants. The L.A. Rams trounced the once mighty Green Bay Packers, and the Dallas Cowboys upended the St. Louis Cards. That's the way it is.

PGA Golfer Wins His 1st Tourney

CORONA, Calif. (AP)—On the 66th hole of the 72-hole Mountain View Open Golf Tournament, Jack McGowan realized he would never win his first PGA tournament by playing it safe.

Instead, he played it bold. At the 66th he was one stroke ahead of rookie Dick Sikes. At the 72nd he was 11 shots under par—and four strokes ahead of Sikes for first place in the $40,000 tournament.

It was the Largo, Fla., golfer's first win in four years as a pro. He won $5,800. The former collegiate champion was second in the tourney, which ended yesterday. McGowan had a 273, Sikes a 277, followed closely by Jack Rule at 278, Charles Coody 279 and Billy Casper 280.

"I'll admit my coliar was getting a little tight out there," said McGowan, afterward. "I was five over par and I knew somebody had to catch me with me shooting that kind of golf. I decided to stop playing it cautious and started to fire at the pin."

On the 17th hole McGowan iced things with a birdie, rolling in a 40-foot putt.

Rule, a comparative youngster from Cedar Springs, Iowa, slipped into third thanks to two hole-in-ones. He made an ace Thursday on the 110-yard third hole and sank a three-iron shot yesterday on the 210-yard 16th hole. It was the first double ace in a PGA tourney since Jay Hebert got a pair in the 1959 El Paso Open.

RAIDERS CLOBBER DENVER BRONCOS

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP)—Oakland's Raiders had just won their first game of the season with an awesome offensive display, but Coach Al Davis was talking about defense.

"We hit real well physically and that was the difference," said Davis after the Raiders had rocked Denver 40-7 yesterday.

"They got the pass rush and we didn't—they gave us a real sound physical lacing," said Speedie.

Principal beneficiaries of the defensive team's exploits were a quartet of offensive stars — Cotton Davidson, Clem Daniels, Billy Cannon and Art Powell—who were the biggest contributors to the total of 628 yards the Raiders gained.

Davidson did the most damage, getting 417 yards and five touchdowns on 27 completions in 37 attempts. It was by far the biggest day the five-year veteran ever has enjoyed in the American Football League.

The Raiders exploded for 17 points in the first period alone, as Davidson hit Cannon with scoring passes of 23 and 11 yards and Mike Mercer added a 20-yard field goal.

The Broncos got their only score in the second quartero n Jacky Lee's one-yard plunge, but Davidson got it back with a 21-yard scoring pass to Powell.

Powell gathered in a 4 - yard end zone pass from Davidson for the fourth Raider tally, and Cotton came back in the final period with an 11-yard touchdown toss to Jan Barrett.

The final two Raider points came when the defense ran Bronco quarterback Micky Slaughter out of the end zone for a safety as he tried to pass.

The Broncos, who lost star end Lionel Taylor to a muscle pull early in the game, skidded into the Western Division basement with a 1-6 record. Oakland moved ahead of Denver with a win and a tie in seven games.

Cal Has A Lead, But Then Fails

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — California's Bears returned to the practice field today with a special mission—to learn how to play a full 60 minutes of winning football.

For 59 minutes and 10 seconds Saturday in Memorial Stadium, Cal looked like a winner. But with 50 seconds to go, Southern Cal's Craig Fertig capped the greatest passing performance in his school's history by tossing the 22-yard touchdown pass that nipped Cal 26-21.

The Bears take on UCLA Saturday in Berkeley, and need a victory to keep their Rose Bowl hopes alive. Both UCLA and Cal have 3-3 season's records, but the Bruins are 1-0 in Pacific Athletic Conference play while the Bears are now 0-1.

The defeat was a bitter one for California, which appeared to have sewed up its first victory over Southern Cal in five years. This was the situation:

With 1 minute 55 seconds to go, Southern Cal trailed 21-20 and had the ball on its own 5-yard line. It was third down and 23 yards to go for a first down.

Fertig first passed 18 yards to halfback Mike Garrett, then made the first down with an 18-yard toss to Fred Hill. Another pass to Garrett gained 36 yards, and one play later Fertig arched the winning aerial to Rod Sherman.

Fertig's heroics — 21 completions in 28 attempts for four touchdowns and 371 yards — overshadowed another brilliant performance by Cal quarterback Craig Morton, who passed for two touchdowns and scored one himself.

Notre Dame Strangles Stanford '11'

That's the problem facing the Stanford Indians as they prepare for Saturday's Pacific Athletic Conference clash in Portland with the undefeated Ducks.

So far this season, Oregon has depended on the passing of Berry, who has responded brilliantly to rank among the nation's leading collegiate passers.

Oregon's defense is nearly as dazzling as the Berry - led offense with two straight shutouts to its credit, including last Saturday's 7-0 whitewash of Washington.

Stanford takes one small advantage into the game—the Indians already know what it is to face the combination of a strong passing attack and a rugged defense.

That's exactly what they ran into Saturday in South Bend, Ind., where undefeated Notre Dame scalped the Indians by a 28-6 score. The game was far more one-sided than the score indicates.

Not only did the Irish break four school passing records, they also held Stanford to a net gain of one yard—36 inches—rushing.

"That's the strongest football team I've seen in my 13 years of coaching," said Stanford's John Ralston. "Not the best. But definitely the strongest."

Oregon Newcomers Have Inside Track To Rose Bowl

By RON BERGMAN

Associated Press Sports Writer

A pair of familiar newcomers to the Pacific Athletic Conference from Oregon are chugging down the inside track toward the Rose Bowl, although it's a twisting set of rails to Pasadena for both of them.

The undefeated Oregon Ducks bounced defending conference champion Washington 7-0 last Saturday and welcome punchless Stanford to Portland next Saturday.

The Oregon State Beavers won their fifth straight by humiliating eighth - ranked Syracuse 31-13 in Portland. The Beavers, who travel to Pullman to meet Washington State, lost their opener 7-3 to Northwestern.

USC edged Cal 25-21, Notre Dame battered Stanford 28-6 at South Bend, Illinois smothered UCLA 26-7 and Idaho upset WSU 28-13 in other games last Saturday.

Before meeting each other Nov. 21 at Corvallis, the two Oregon schools each play WSU and Stanford. Because they rejoined the conference just before the start of the season, the two Oregon schools don't play USC, Cal and UCLA this season and won't have full league schedules until 1967.

This could keep them out of the Rose Bowl when the PAC vote is taken after the season ends.

BUT — USC, the only other team with a likely shot at Pasadena, already has lost 17-0 to Ohio State, the squad that as of now looks like the Big Ten Rose Bowl representative.

Oregon quarterback Bob Berry flipped a 14-yard scoring pass to Lowell Dean on a first-quarter tackle eligible play in Seattle. The defenses took over from there.

Sophomore quarterback Paul Brothers and a quick defense raced Oregon State past Syracuse. Brothers passed 44 yards to Len Frketich in the first period and put the Beavers ahead to stay. Syracuse scored first and last.

The USC Trojans came from 21-14 behind in the last quarter, scoring the winning touchdown against California with 50 seconds remaining on quarterback Craig Fertig's fourth touchdown pass—his second to Rod Sherman.

Cal's Craig Morton passed for two touchdowns and ran over for another. But Fertig outpassed Morton 371 yards to 219 with 21 completions, three more than Morton. Both tried 28 passes.

Second - ranked Notre Dame was far too much for Stanford. Irish quarterback John Huarte completed 21 of 37 passes for 300 yards, Bill Wolski scored three times on two runs and a pass and the Indians were stopped cold by the rugged Notre Dame defense.

UCLA managed to tie the score 7-7 in the second quarter against Illinois before Jim Grabowski got loose. The Illini fullback acked up 181 yards in 27 carries and scored three times.

Idaho fullback Ray McDonald ran wild and WSU halfback Clarence Williams ran mild as the Vandals rolled to only their 13th victory over the Cougars in a series that dates to 1893. The 232-pound sophomore McDonald gained 115 yards in 34 attempts and scored three times.

NFL ROUNDUP

L.A. Rams Beat Green Bay, 27-17

By MURRAY CHASS

Associated Press Sports Writer

Bobby Smith runs more than 90 yards every time he scores a touchdown, and Bucky Pope, his Los Angeles Rams' teammate, scores a touchdown every other time he catches a pass.

But Jim Marshall of the Minnesota Vikings hopes he hasn't started a personal trend on running with recovered fumbles.

Smith and Pope starred for the second straight week as the surprising Rams defeated the sagging Green Bay Packers 27-17 in the National Football league yesterday. Marshall glittered in his own way in the fourth quarter of the Vikings' 27-22 triumph over the San Franciso 49ers.

Bill Kilmer caught a pass from George Mira on the 49er 40, but he bobbled the ball. Marshall, a five-year veteran, alertly snatched it and lit out for the end zone.

Sixty yards later, he arrived there safely. Unfortunately, he had failed to hear the screams of his teammates. They had tried to warn him that he was running the wrong way.

So instead of the Vikings receiving six points for a touchdowns, the 49ers earned two points for a safety, a harmless two points as things turned out.

"I didn't know what I had done," an embarrassed Marshall said after the game. "Things just happened. I didn't even know I had picked up the fumble. I lost all sense of direction."

But that wasn't the case with Smith, the Rams' electrifying defensive back. He scooped up Paul Hornung's partially blocked field goal attempt on Los Angeles' six-yard line in the third quarter and raced 94 yards for the touchdown that put the Rams ahead to stay.

The touchdown was the second for Smith this season, the first coming the previous Sunday against the 49ers. It was a brilliant 97-yard run with an intercepted pass. Both plays are the longest in the NFL this season.

Rookie Pope, a pass receiver from Catawba College, also was in on a long play, a 55-yard scoring pass from Roman Gabriel in the second quarter. The pass, the only one he caught in the game, brought his season record to 12 passes received, six going for touchdowns.

In other NFL games Sunday, Cleveland crushed New York 42-20, Baltimore trampled Detroit 34-0, Dallas whipped St. Louis 31-13, Washington defeated Chicago 27-20 and Philadelphia knocked off Pittsburgh 34-10.

In the American Football League, San Diego edged Houston 20-17 and Oakland ran over Denver 40-7. Buffalo beat New York 34-24 Saturday night and Boston trimmed Kansas City 24-7 Friday night.

Cleveland took over sole possession of first place in the Eastern Conference, scoring twice in the fourth quarter on Giant fumbles. Paul Wiggin stepped into the end zone after grabbing Dick James' bobble on the two-yard line, and Charley Scales raced 18 yards following a miscue by Clarence Childs.

Dallas, meanwhile, dropped the Cardinals into second place in the East as Don Meredith threw to Franke Clarke for one touchdown and tossed to the same receiver, setting up another. Amos Marsh ran for two more scores.

Johnny Unitas flipped touchdown aerials to Ray Berry and Jimmy Orr, carrying Western Conference-leader Baltimore to its sixth straight triumph. The Lions had gone into the game with the league's toughest defense.

Chicago tied Washington 20-20 on Billy Wade's late touchdown pass to Joe Marconi, but the Redskins won when Sonny Jurgensen threw his fourth scoring pass, a 15-yarder to Pres Carpenter.

Red Mack snared three passes for 104 yards, and Ollie Matson ran and caught passes for 136 yards, paving the way for an easy Philadelphia victory over the Steelers.

Celtics Keep On Winning

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

The Boston Celtics just can't shake that old winning habit.

Boston has won the National Basketball Assn. championship six straight years and although the other clubs keep getting stronger, the Celtics keep right on winning.

They won their fourth game without a loss last night, topping the Bullets 112-100 at Baltimore. Sam Jones and Tom Sanders provided the Celtic spark, Jones topping all scorers with 26 points and Sanders adding 23, all but seven of them in the second half.

Bailey Howell paced Baltimore with 22 points.

The Cincinnati Royals remained one game behind Boston in the Eastern Division race by edging the Philadelphia 76ers 109-107 although Oscar Robertson was held to two field goals and a mere 11 points.

Jerry Lucas assumed the scoring burden in place of Robertson, who said this was his worst game since his rookie year, by getting 32 points.

In the opening game of the doubleheader at Cincinnati, the New York Knickerbockers claimed their first success of the campaign by dumping the Detroit Pistons 108-95. A pair of sharp-shooting rookies, Willis Reed and Butch Komives, got 20 points each to spark the Knicks.

Aparicio Made His 50 Steals

BALTIMORE (AP) — Little Luis Aparicio missed his goal last year, his first with the Orioles. He planned to steal 50 bases but got only 40.

However, this year the Venezualan shortstop set a personal record with 57 steals. It marked the ninth straight season that he led the American League in steals.

RUSSIAN PAPER SAYS USSR WON OLYMPICS

MOSCOW (AP)—The Russian newspaper, Soviet Sport, figures Russia won the Olympic Games at Tokyo by a margin of 608.3 points to 581.8 for the United States. The paper did not say how it arrived at the figures.

No Soviet newspaper, however, listed a point table or total points of the track and field competition. Komsomoloskaya Pravda, the youth paper, did say that the United States defeated Russian by 47 points.

Soviet Sport said Russian and track and field teams got 124 points in Tokyo compared to 168 in 1960 in the Rome Olympics but listed no comparable figures for Americans.

No official score is kept in the Olympic Games but Russia won 96 medals compared to 90 by the United States. The United States, however, topped the Soviet Union 36-30 in gold medals.

Pirates Beat Stubborn Novato Hornets, 19-6

By RALPH CHATOIAN

Drake High School's Pirates grid team, winner of six straight games this season, gets a breather in Marin Athletic League action this coming weekend.

Last victory for Drake was over Novato High's Hornets Saturday afternoon, 19-6, in College of Marin stadium before a crowd of 4,100. The triumph kept the Pirates in a tie with Terra Linda for the league lead, both teams with 4-0 MAL marks.

Drake had a ground game against Novato, with halfback Dean Lazzarini reeling off 160 yards and fullback Joe DeMasi bulling for 58 more. But when quarterback Al Simontacchi passed, he made it count.

Two of Simontacchi's three completions for the day were for touchdowns, both to split end Larry Stein. Simontacchi tried only seven tosses, gaining only 30 yards.

Novato made quite a fight of it, holding the Pirates to a 6-6 tie by halftime. But Drake came out after intermission to outscore the Hornets 13-0. It was the same type of second-half performance the Pirates displayed to beat Petaluma, a really strong team of the North Bay League, in their opener. In that game, Drake trailed 14-6 at halftime, but outscored the Trojans 13-0 in the second half to win, 19-14.

Novato scored their lone touchdown in the game's first offensive series. After Ray Madru returned the opening kickoff to the Hornets' 34-yard line, the Novato eleven stayed on the ground for eight plays to drive 66 yards for a touchdown. Key play of the series was a 35-yard scamper by tailback Dick Otis which took the ball into Drake territory. Then five plays later, quarterback Don Phillips ran a keeper around left end for 13 yards and a TD, with only 3 minutes and 55 seconds gone in the game.

Steve Coontz' kick for the extra point was wide to the right, but the Hornets had a 6-0 lead over the favored Pirates.

It looked like Drake was going to even matters as soon as the Pirates got their hands on the ball when they started a drive of their own after the return Novato kickoff. The green and white clad Pirates, led by 18 and 17-yard runs of Lazzarini, moved the ball quickly to the Novato 17.

Then on the next play Simontacchi kept the ball and skirted right end to the Novato two where he was slammed hard to the ground. The ball shook loose and Novato's George Sheehan fell on it on his own two, shutting off the Drake drive.

But Drake was to score a touchdown in each of the three remaining quarters while holding Novato scoreless.

The Pirates' tying touchdown was on an 11-yard pass from Simontacchi to Stein, ending a drive that covered 66 yards in 10 plays. It was the only pass play of the drive, and came with five minutes remaining in the first half. On the try for point, the pass from center sailed over the head of place kicker Bill Hickerson who didn't get a chance for a boot.

Next Drake tally came on the opening series of the second half. It was Lazzarini who slashed through right tackle for four yards to cross the goal line standing up. It culminated a drive that carried 61 yards in 10 plays. DeMasi tried left guard for the extra point but lost possession of the ball before crossing the goal line.

Then in that same third period, Novato drove to the Drake goal line and had a first and goal from the one, but a stalwart Drake defense held. It was a show of brilliant defense by the Pirates. Ron Moxie tried the middle and was held, Phillips tried the middle and was held, and on third down, Otis tried the left side, but was hit hard by Stephen Schafer for a two-yard loss. Then on fourth down from the three, Phillips' pass went incomplete and Drake took over. The Pirates' defensive front wall of Schafer, Lee Jamison, Brian Palmer, Hickerson, and others, got a well-deserved roar of approval from the Drake rooters.

The Pirates put frosting on the victory cake in the final period when Simontacchi again found Stein in the clear and hit him with a 19 yard TD toss. A Simontacchi pass to Jamison on a tackle eligible play was good for the 19th point.

During the second half, Drake ran almost all its plays on the left side, consistently getting good blocking from the left side of its line—end Stan Carter, tackle Jamison and guard Bob Barnecut.

An interesting aspect of the game was that Stein was playing right end on every play but two, when he was switched to the left side. On those two occasions, he faked to the inside and broke outside to catch his touchdown passes, wide open both times.

Novato's running game was led by Otis with 91 yards gained while quarterback Phillips completed 8 of 14 passes for 117 yards. There was a lot of offense in this game, Drake picking up 266 yards and Novato gaining a total of 247. Novato's Tom Corder was the defensive thief of the game, plucking off two interceptions. Stein also had one interception to his credit.

Drake will host Manteca in a practice game next Saturday while Novato plays Tam High.

The Bombs Win Intramural Title

Redwood High School's intramural basketball championship was won by the Bombs, captained by Tom Bly. Trailing the winners were Renegades, captained by Fred Ross; Raiders, captained by Russel Smith, and Straps, captained by Dave Strathhairn.

Other standouts in the league, besides the captains, were Bill and Dave Crossley, Don Detrick, Jim Marc, Bruce McGee, Dave Kilmer and Les Sclar.

Lightweight Title Fight?

LONDON (AP) — British boxing promoter Jack Solomons said yesterday he is negotiating to stage a world title fight between lightweight champion Carlos Ortiz of New York and British champion Dave Charnley in London Nov. 4 or Dec. 1.

Solomons said he had booked Charnley, and was now negotiating with the Ortiz camp. If Ortiz is not available Solomons said he will try to sign up world welterweight champion Emile Griffith for a non-title bout with Charnley.

Trojans Whip Redwood 32-6

By MAURICE WEINGER

Terra Linda Trojans ran around Redwood to post a 32-6 win over the Giants to capture their seventh straight victory of the season Saturday at Kentfield.

The victory, their fourth in the Marin Athletic League, was witnessed by 4,500 fans, and kept the Trojans in a first place tie with also unbeaten Drake.

It was Terra Linda's powerful running that made the big difference during the contest. Backs Steve Frazzini, Dave Bowman, and John Clifford were too much for the Giants to handle as time again the runners broke free from an initial tackle to gain more yardage. Altogether, the Trojans picked up 257 yards on the ground with Frazzini getting 77 on nine carries.

Both teams were hurt throughout the contest by the constant throwing of the red flag, but it was Redwood which suffered the most as it had a big part in giving T.L. its first score, and after the Trojans had stopped Redwood cold three yeards from a score in the first quarter, the rest of the game belonged completely to Terra Linda.

Redwood's quarterback Scott Murphy tried a long pass on his team's first play from scrimmage, but the ball was intercepted by John Forry who brought it back to the Giant 48. After trying to gain a first down, T.L. punted but while the ball was in the air Redwood was called for clipping and instead of having possession of the ball, the Trojans kept it with a first down on the 32.

Staying on the ground, Terra Linda—with Clifford picking up 15 around left end—moved down to the 28 where another 15-yard penalty against the Giants put the ball on the 13. Tim Garvin's two and Bowman's nine were good for a first down on the two and Frazzini then drove off left tackle for the first score.

The Giants, taking the ensuing kick off on their 38, drove down field, but a tenacious Trojan defense stopped them on the three when Murphy's pass to Bill Kilcoyne fell short of a score.

Terra Linda picked up two scores in the second quarter. The first was done on a 70 yard drive with Frazzini going on the second play of the series around left end for 36 yards on a key block by Bill Hall. From the Giant 28, Clifford, Bowman and Frazzini moved to the five with the powerful Bowman then adding four more when he refused to go down after being hit by six Giant tacklers.

Kilcoyne fumbled the Trojan kick-off and Terra Linda recovered only 29 yards from pay dirt. Gary Liberman, the fine Trojan quarterback, hit Garvin for seven and after three runs that moved the ball to the eight, Liberman found Bowman open on the left side for the third score.

Bowman electrified the crowd on the opening kickoff of the third quarter when he grabbed the ball and raced from his five to the 43. Clifford added another 39 around right end and Garvin bulled through center for 16 more for a first down on the seven. John Baken added one and Garvin finished it with the last six through left tackle.

The final Terra Linda score again was set up by a fine run, this time by Garvin. Taking a punt from Tom Sather on his own 40, the fleet back raced through three Giants for a 54 yard run to the nine. Another five was added when Redwood was offside and Clifford picked up three more through center, and the final yard on a pitch out from Liberman.

Redwood's only score came early in the last quarter. Two 15-yard penalties against Terra Linda helped move the ball to the 27 and Murphy's pass to Terra Smith, after a three yard run by Dan Salata, put the ball on the three.

POP WARNER GRID TEAMS STILL TIED

The Redwood Junior Giants and San Rafael Junior Bulldogs are having quite a time of it trying to take over the lead in the Marin County Pop Warner Football League.

The two teams, entering yesterday's game with identical 3-0 records, fought to a 12-12 tie and today are still tied for the lead.

In the other two games on the slate, the Tamalapais Junior Indians beat the Novato Junior Hornets 26-20, and the Terra Linda Junior Trojans whipped the Drake Junior Pirates, 19-7.

MAYBE THIS IS THE "SECRET" of why we're able to make charcoal in the open air to use for smoothing out Jack Daniel's.

Charcoal Mellowing calls for hard maple charcoal, rick-burned in the open air. Now, some folks say it can't be made this way. Well, besides stacking the ricks in a special way, you have to know just how to direct water on the charring wood to keep it from burning to ashes. For nearly a century we've held on to this skill. And after a sip of Jack Daniel's, we believe you'll understand why.

WHY A S-L-O-W BACKSWING?

IN GOLF, NOTHING HAPPENS UNTIL THE BALL IS STRUCK. ALL THE BACKSWING DOES IS (1) ESTABLISH A RHYTHM AND (2) CARRY THE HANDS AND CLUB INTO THE FORWARD LASH. IN FACT, AT THE PEAK OF THE BACKSWING, EVERYTHING COMES TO A DEAD STOP AND SHIFTS IN REVERSE. WHEN YOU RUSH THE BACKSWING THERE'S A DANGER THE CLUB HEAD WILL BE SWEPT ALONG BY ITS OWN MOMENTUM. AFTER THE HANDS AND HAVE REVERSED GEARS AND STARTED DOWN. WHEN THIS HAPPENS, YOUR SWING FALLS APART AND YOU'RE IN REAL TROUBLE.

Foyt Wins Sacramento 100-Miler

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Sports car drivers on the European Grand Prix Circuit are served fair warning—A.J. Foyt may be headed their way.

Foyt announced his desire to compete in grand prix racing next season shortly after his record-smashing victory yesterday in Sacramento's Golden State Hundred big car event.

The triumph in the 100-mile race at the State Fair Grounds dirt track gave the Houston, Tex., driver a record 10 victories in 12 United States Auto Club - sanctioned championship races this year.

It also gave him $8,000 in prize money, boosting his year's earnings near the $250,000 mark.

At the same time he announced his desire for sports car competition, Foyt said he will retire from sprint car events after two races in Los Angeles in the next two weeks.

Parnelli Jones of Torrance, Calif., only driver to beat Foyt in USAC races this year, led for the first 18 laps yesterday but after that it was all Foyt.

The reigning Indianapolis 500 champ pushed his Offenhauser-powered Sheraton Thompson Special to an average speed of 91.4 miles an hour to top second-place Bobby Marshman of Pottstown, Pa., and third-place Don Branson of Champaign, Ill.

A bad timing gear forced Jones out after the 48th lap. There were no accidents.

About 15,000 spectators contributed to a total purse of $30,000.

Ruth Jessen Wins

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Ruth Jessen of Bonsall, Calif., fired a final round 72, even par, for a 72-hole total of 289 and a victory in the $11,000 Phoenix Thunderbird Ladies Golf Open yesterday.

She won $1,350.

Buffalo Bills Keep Unbeaten Record

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Daryle Lamonica and John Hadl, a couple of youngsters are coming to the fore in the American Football League, but it was veteran quarterback Cotton Davidson who took most of the headlines yesterday.

Davidson, now in his ninth year of pro ball, threw five touchdown passes and completed 22 of 34 attempts for 417 yards in leading the Oakland Raiders to a 40-7 rout of the Denver Broncos. The TD passes were for 33, 11, 21, four and 11 yards.

Veteran George Blanda of Houston connected on 22 of 37 passes for 312 yards yesterday against San Diego, but he was overshadowed by the younger Hadl, who sparked the Chargers to a 20-17 victory over the Oilers.

Hadl, a former Kansas star, hit 19 of 31 passes for 226 yards. It was his aerial artistry, coupled with a 35-yard TD run by Lance Alworth and a 58-yard TD interception of a Blanda pass by Henry Schmidt that overcame the Oilers.

San Diego, the defending AFL champs, spotted Houston an early 7-0 lead, then piled up a 20-7 lead before the Oilers cut it to 20-17 at halftime. Blanda passed to Charlie Hennigan for a TD, then booted a 36-yard field goal with just one second to play in the half.

A driving rainstorm made the field muddy in the second half and there was no further scoring. Blanda passed the Oilers to the San Diego 20 late in the game, but his field goal try to tie the score was no good.

The victory gave San Diego a two-game lead over Kansas City in the Western Division. Kansas City lost to Boston 24-7 Friday night.

Lamonica, formerly of Notre Dame, saved the unbeaten Buffalo Bills from their first defeat against the aroused New York Jets in a Saturday night fray. The Jets led 24-10 in the third quarter before Lamonica led a last period surge that brought the Bills their seventh straight victory 34-24.

A 56-yard TD pass from Lamonica to Elbert Dubenion tied the score at 24-24 with 7:44 left to play. Lamonica then put the Bills ahead to stay by plunging over from the three with 4:19. Pete Gogolak added a 31-yard field goal for the Eastern Division leaders.

John Surtees Wins World Racing Title

MEXICO CITY (AP) — England's John Surtees won the 1964 World Championship in auto racing today although he only finished second in the third Mexican Grand Prix yesterday.

Surtees had gone into the race with 34 points compiled in nine previous races. His second place gave him six more points for a total of 40.

And this was just enough to edge out Graham Hill, also of England, who had 39 points up to yesterday—and failed to get any more in the Mexican race. Hill finished 11th in the Mexican race.

Jim Clark of Scotland had 30 points up to Sunday, and seemed almost certain to pick up the extra nine for first place. He led the field for 64 laps, only to have his oil system break down, causing him to lose in the final lap. But even so, he was qualified as fifth, and ended with 32 points for third place in world ratings in 1964.

After the Mexican Grand Prix, the standings were:

Surtees 40, Hill 39.3, Clark 32.

Tied for fourth with 23 points were two of yesterday's competitors, Lorenzo Bandini of Italy, who picked up four points for finishing third, and Richie Gunther of England who was not among the scorers.

Dan Gurney of Costa Mesa, Calif., yesterday's winner, ended up in sixth with 19 points, including the nine he won in the Mexican Grand Prix.

Gurney, driving a Brabham, came from behind and won the Mexican Grand Prix in 9 hours, 9 minutes and 32 seconds. He took the lead on the last lap after running second to Clark most of the race.

Gurney's average speed was 93.319 miles per hours.

The 30-year-old Surtees, in a Ferrari, had a time of 2 hours, 10 minutes, 59 seconds for an average speed of 92.499 m.p.h.

Slumping Seals Play Vancouver Tomorrow

PORTLAND (AP) — The San Francisco Seals, currently holding down last place in the Western Hockey League, take their faltering game to Vancouver tomorrow.

The Seals are out to avenge the humiliating 7-0 loss that the Canucks handed them the last time they met.

The Seals had their last game in the bag in the final period Saturday at Portland, but the Buckaroos scored four unanswered goals in the closing minutes and won 5-3.

San Francisco held a 3-1 lead when the Portland barrage started. The go-ahead goal was scored by Arnie Schmautz, his second of the game.

McCarthy, Bagley Speak Against Proposition 14

Marin's two legislators, Sen. John F. McCarthy and Assemblyman William T. Bagley, have spoken out again for a "no" vote on Proposition 14.

They declared that Proposition 14 would deprive the state's elected representatives of authority to legislate in housing matters.

(Republican Sen. Thomas Kuchel also has gone on record as opposed to Proposition 14. See story, page 2)

Bagley said there is growing Republican opposition to Proposition 14 for several reasons.

He said the proposition "would abdicate state and local action in this field and would almost invariably invite federal action. . . .

"Both the 1962 and 1964 California Republican platforms urge elimination of segregation in housing. Proposition 14 would encourage segregation in housing. . . .

McCarthy said in most cases, "support for Proposition 14 is simply based on misinformation as to what this initiative would do." He called it a "sweeping constitutional amendment which eliminates other laws and permanently prohibits action by elected officials in a major problem area."

The senator said Proposition 14 would give constitutional protection to discrimination.

A UNICEF Halloween collection will be made by Phi Sigma Sigma and Rho Ghama Ghama, Redwood High School's two service clubs, at the Redwood-Marin Catholic football game Saturday.

Murder Trial Site Change Is Denied

A plea from a Corte Madera couple, Dr. Sherman Wirt, 58, and Mrs. Helen Carlson Calani, 43, to move their trial on murder charges from Virginia City, Nev., to another locale was denied Friday.

The trial of Wirt of 104 Walnut Avenue, and Mrs. Calani, who also gave her address as 101 Walnut Avenue, who are accused of shooting a Virginia City contractor, Richard Ghilotti, 59, May 23 in his home, is scheduled for Nov. 16. Both are free on $50,000 bail.

New Practice Tee Prevents Slicing

The family golfer will appreciate a package of "Tee Whizzes" in the toe of his Christmas stocking. The new practice tee is said to prevent slicing and hooking and to encourage longer, straighter drives. In appearance it looks like an ordinary tee with one side of the cup extended upwards to the height of the ball.

Watch Calculates Decompression Pause

For the advanced or professional skin diver, a watch to calculate the decompression pause required before surfacing would be most welcome under the Yule tree, the watch tells a diver how long he's been submerged, whether or not he requires a decompression pause before surfacing, and how long this period should be. Although waterproof to 1,000 feet, it calculates only to the 149-foot level, beyond which there is strong danger of "divers' narcosis."

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

For Those Who Angle At Bridge There Is No End To The Fish

The best bait in the world won't work when there are no fish in the stream.

Fortunately for those of us who do our angling at the bridge table, there's no end to the supply of poor fish.

Opening lead — ◇ 9

West couldn't think of a good attacking lead so hit upon the passive lead of the nine of diamonds. A heart would have been better, as it turned out, but West couldn't tell.

FOUR DIAMONDS

South could count on four diamonds, two hearts, one club and at least one spade. He correctly decided that his best chance was to try for two spade tricks instead of only one.

With this in mind, South won the first diamond in his hand and led a spade to dummy's king.

West naturally played a low spade, and East played the six of spades so smoothly that South was completely taken in. South was convinced that West had the ace of spades.

SWALLOWS BAIT

South ran his diamonds and swallowed the bait by leading another spade to dummy's queen. East could now haul in his fish by taking three spade tricks.

There were not enough to defeat the contract immediately, but South had no further play for his ninth trick and eventually went down one.

South's play to the second trick was correct, but when the king of spades won he missed a play that would give him an extra chance. He should immediately return a low spade from dummy toward his own ten.

SPADE TRICKS

This guarantees two spade tricks whenever East has the jack of spades. If West has the jack of spades, declarer can get a second spade trick if West has the ace of spades, since he can later lead his low spade toward dummy's queen.

Any play will work if the six missing spades break 3-3.

The correct play would be easier to see if East took the first spade trick with the ace. The recommended play is still correct even when East is sly enough to refuse the first spade.

What do you say?

Answer: Pass.

You have only 13 points, so that an opening bid is optional rather than mandatory. You would be tempted to bid if you had an ace or two, or even if you had some tens and nines to give the hand some body. The actual hand is just a trifle too weak for an opening bid.

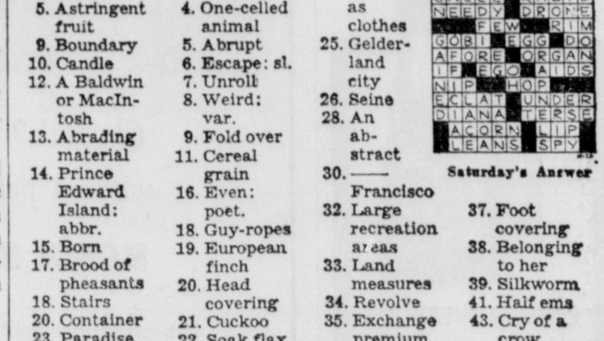
SIR BAGBY



ALMANAC

The moon is approaching its last quarter. The morning stars are Jupiter, Mars and Venus. The evening stars are Saturn, and Jupiter.

On this day in history:

In 1825 the Erie Canal, first of the great man-made waterways in the U. S. was opened for traffic.

In 1920, Terence MacSwiney, Lord Mayor of Cork, Ireland, died after fasting for 75 days in a prison cell demanding independence for Ireland.

A thought for the day— Norwegian dramtist Henrik Ibesen said: "A community is like a ship; everyone ought to be prepared to take the helm."

The boys are up in the attic with the train set, in fact, there are children in all 5 bedrooms. HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Patient Makes Best Sleuth When Seeking The Cause Of Dermatitis

VAN DELLEN

Contact dermatitis refers to the eruption caused by something the individual touches or which touches him. In some instances the substance is an irritant, such as a strong alkali, acid, or solvent. This origin is obvious as a rule because the skin becomes red, inflamed, or blistered soon after contact.

A second type is an allergic reaction. Several hours or days may elapse before the outbreak appears. The preferred sites are exposed areas of the skin—the neck, face, hands, forearms, and legs. The hairy region of the scalp seldom is involved and dermatitis on the face is likely to stop within half an inch of the hairline.

THE PALMS of the hands escape and the outbreak is likely to begin in areas that may not be rinsed thoroughly, such as the upper eyelids, the surface under rings, and the webs of the fingers and toes.

It is not always easy to find the culprit. When the possibilities are known, the patient makes a better sleuth than his physician because he is with himself day in and day out. A diffuse outbreak on head, neck, or eyelids generally stems from an irritant in the air (sprays, volatile material, pollen).

MORE LOCALIZED eruptions follow the application of soap, face cream, and other cosmetics. Sensitivity to garters, soiled hat bands, dentifrices, fur pieces, wristwatches, and antiperspirants may be responsible. Lesions usually occur in areas where the products are used or worn. Sometimes the agent is transferred to the face by the hands. Nail polish and plants are good examples.

Now and then, a product used for decades turns out to be the offender. It may be difficult to convince the victim until a patch test is done. A small amount of a dilute solution of the suspected material is placed on the skin; when allergy exists, redness and itching appear within 24 to 48 hours.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.)

NERVES AND SURGERY

Mrs. H. S. writes: If I had my infected gall bladder removed, would my nervousness decrease?

REPLY

Yes, if the organ is diseased and aggravating your emotional problem. On the other hand, nervousness complicates the diagnosis because abdominal distress and indigestion may stem from psychic upsets. In the circumstances, removal of the gall bladder would not bring relief of nervous pain.

SLUSH THERAPY

D. C. writes: What are the advantages and disadvantages of the slush treatment of acne?

REPLY

This is an old remedy in which the acne lesions are frozen with carbon dioxide snow. The skin turns red and peels in time. The only advantage is that the skin peels but numerous ointments that do the same are available at less expense.

ANYONE CAN GET IT

W.S. writes: Is is possible for a man of 61, whose blood pressure and weight are below normal, to develop angina pectoris?

REPLY

Yes. Angina is more likely to develop in the overweight and those with hypertension. But the opposite does not make an individual immune to heart disease.

Mill Valley Trustees

Mill Valley School District trustees will discuss at their 8 p.m. meeting today in the district office the disposition of "hundreds" of obsolete textbooks, exchange of a small parcel of private property for school property at Strawberry Point School, and the inter-district exchange of a Marin City pupil desirous of attending school in Mill Valley.

Education Board Due Plans For Gallinas School

The San Rafael Board of Education will be asked tomorrow night to approve plans for a special education unit at Gallinas School.

Board members will be shown the preliminary drawings by the project's architect, then asked to authorize the start of working drawings.

Also scheduled is a proposal by the Draper Companies for an alternate school site to one they have been considering in the Peacock Gap area.

The board will resume discussion on landscaping of the Glenwood school site, and will be shown how the $18,000 salary of Supt. Bert C. Corona compares with that of other superintendents in Marin.

The meeting is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. tomorrow at E Street School.

Red Flag Awarded

Pupils at Sausalito's Central School will be presented with a large red flag as a fire prevention contest award tomorrow at 9:40 a.m. by Fire Chief Mathew J. Perry. Central students competed with three other schools in the district and will fly the flag for one school year.

Political Polls Still Cannot Claim Sure-Fire Accuracy

(Political polling has become a major and controversial election-year pastime. How reliable is it? This report, based on nearly 700 voter interviews since Labor Day, tells how voters react to being polled.)

By JULES WITCOVER
Advance News Service

WASHINGTON — The American voter this fall seems to have about the same attitude toward being interviewed on his politics as he has toward the presidential election itself:

He is not overly impressed or aroused, and he has other, more personal things on his mind.

He is willing to stand still for a few minutes of conversation—usually inside his screen door, with the safety latch in place. But as a rule he has neither the time nor the inclination to get into any long-winded discussion.

In general, he is willing to reveal his past voting preferences and to discuss the merits of the two current presidential candidates. And in most cases he is willing to say who will get his vote on Nov. 3.

There are, of course, exceptions. Like this exchange in a Chicago neighborhood after several minutes of conversation leading up to the payoff questions:

"Can you tell me if you voted in 1960, and whether you voted for Nixon or Kennedy?"

"That's none of your business."

"Have you made up your mind this year?"

"That's none of your business either."

"Of course. Can you tell me what you do, sir?"

I'm the Republican Percinct captain."

The more cooperative voter talks about this election, for the most part, in negative terms—why he is against one of the two candidates rather than why he is for one of them. He deals in generalities and cliches. Although he has a fair idea of what each candidate has said, he harbors his share of misconceptions and oversimplications.

Thus, to pro-Goldwater voters, the senator "says what's on his mind," and to anti-Goldwater voters, he "talks before he thinks." To Johnson backers, their man "knows his way around," and to his detractors, he is "too much of an operator."

To the Goldwater voter, the Senator is for "the things that made America great" and Johnson is "a puppet for the labor bosses." To the Johnson supporter, Goldwater is "anti-union" and their man is "for the common people."

The voter's income level appears to have a strong influence on how he reacts to being polled. If he lives in a lower-income neighborhood, he is more likely to look upon the interviewer as an "authority figure" to be answered with caution and politeness.

If he lives in a high-income neighborhood, he is likely to be A) suspicious of the interviewer and insistent on seeing identification, or B) eager to discuss his favorite candidate.

If he lives in a middle-income area, he is likely to be amused at being interviewed and more than willing to express his views at greater length than voters from lower or higher income neighborhoods.

No matter what the neighborhood, there are voters who will drop everything and talk for half an hour or more. And there are those—not many—who consider questions about their political views and intrusion and even an affront.

Aside from the degree of apparent cooperation, the critical element for a political poll-taker is the reliability of the answers—whether the voter who responds is telling the truth.

Critics of polls warn that the voter is a deceptive creature who is likely not only to hold back but to lie.

That may be true in formal, statistical surveys in which voters are asked to respond yes-and-no to questions. But in nearly 700 informal interviews in both urban and rural areas, voters appeared to have neither the desire nor the guile to deceive.

Not only do most voters seem to be free of deception, many look upon the interviewer, this year at least, as a sounding board for their views, which frequently are hazy and uncertain.

Radiation's Danger To Heridity Challenged

By DELOS SMITH

NEW YORK (UPI) — From a "natural laboratory" have come results of an experiment set up and carried out by nature, unaided by science or scientists. They are reassuring to those scientists who fear the long-range dangers to mankind from increasing fall-out radiation more than any of the more immediate dangers.

These are the genetic ones. Radiation, if of high enough intensity which lasts long enough, will cause genes to change — or mutate. Gene mutation cause progeny to differ from parents, often for worse but also for better though no one knows the proportions in natural circumstances.

Genes mutate spontaneously, of course, without known needling from outside forces. And the reproductive genes of all living things have always been subjected to constant background radiation, from radioactive minerals in the earth and from radioactive cosmic rays.

The dosage rates usually are so low it can be believed background radiation has not substantially increased spontaneous mutation rates. But steadily through the new atomic age increasing fallout radiation, which is in many instances long-lasting to the point of being semi-permanent, has increased these rates.

Should fallout radiation continue to increase for any long period of time background radiation would pose at least a theoretical threat to the continuation of all life.

As the noted British scientist, Prof. H. Gruneberg, put it: "If the horrors of thermonuclear war should ever be let loose on humanity, its genetical aftermath would probably be rather trival by comparison with its immediate effects. The real danger which is with us now and likely to remain with us indefinitely is the exposure to small doses of radiation over long periods."

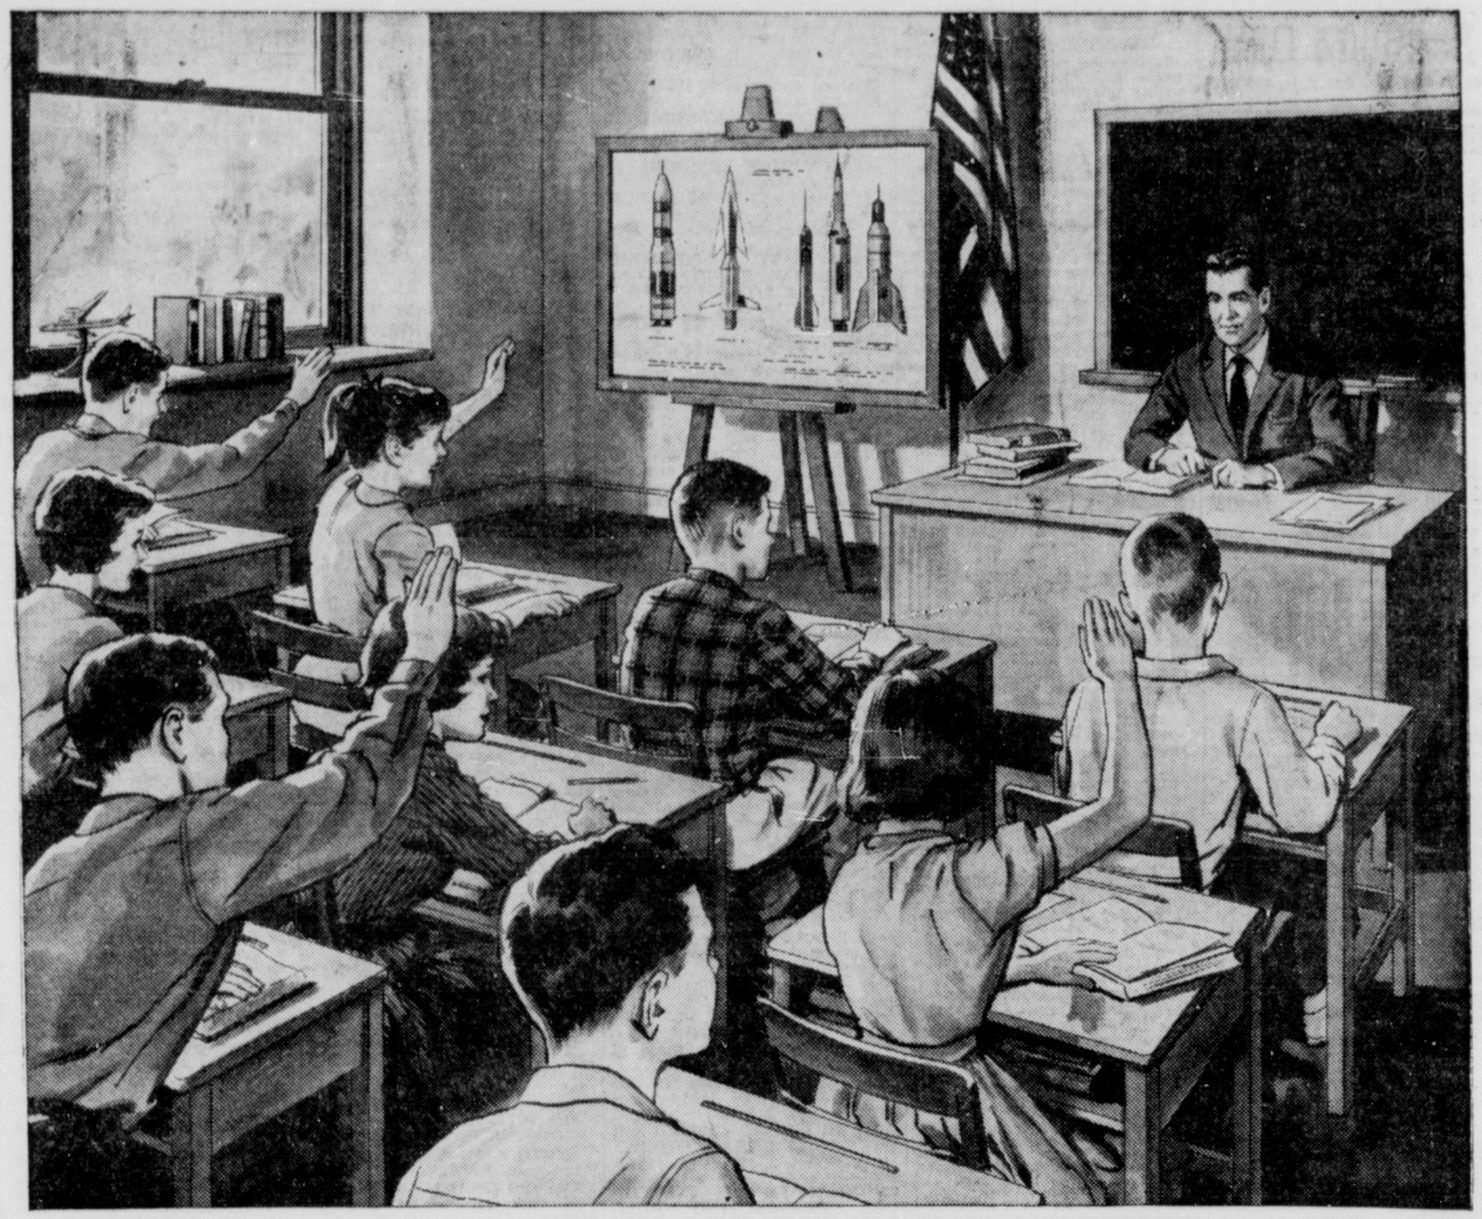
He was recounting in a lecture the experimental results he and his associates had taken from a "natural laboratory." It is a strip of land just off the Malabar coast of India. Because there are deposits of radioactive minerals close to the surface, the background radiation is and has been for ages more than seven times higher than elsewhere in India.

By historical records it can be demonstrated factually that this strip has been separated from the mainland for at least 460 years. All this time it had been inhabited by both people and rats. The people have come and gone but the rats haven't, and so Grunberg reasoned that at least 500 generations of rats had been subjected to relatively high constant doses of radiation which accumulatively should have been enough to affect their genes — if radiation in less than very large amounts has that power.

His scientific party trapped almost 900 of these rats, and as many more in parts of India where natural radiation is around the world average. Those characteristics of the skeleton, the teeth and the pregnant uterus which are known to be under genetic control were carefully measured for comparisons.

The effects of gene mutations were evident in both sets of rats, as one would expect of members of any species subjected to this kind of analysis. But the patterns were not detectably different in the set from a low background radiation environment than those from the high one.

Gruneberg reminded that natural selection decides in the long run which mutations are good and which are bad. Individuals whose characteristics are formed by the good mutations survive and propagate the future generations. He concluded that the rats subjected to relatively high background radiation for centuries were as much in "genetic equilibrium" as rats living less dangerously from the radiation viewpoint.



ANYONE FOR MARS?

Chances are there's more than one budding astronaut in this bright-eyed group. As in any other classroom in the land, there are probably several potential teachers, too . . . along with a sprinkling of doctors, scientists, linguists, engineers and poets.

Let's hope so.

Let's hope that all the bright-eyed youngsters in all the classrooms in this great country of ours will have every opportunity to make the most of their God-given talents. Let's hope they go to first-rate colleges and universities, where they will be trained to be useful and productive citizens. We're going to need them all in the critical years that lie ahead.

Yet what are their chances?

Today the college classroom, the place where future brainpower is generated, is being seriously weakened by two alarming trends: (1) Low faculty salaries are driving great numbers of gifted teachers into other fields, and doing little to attract talented young people to the teaching profession. And (2) physical facilities, in some cases already inadequate, are not being expanded to take care of mushrooming enrollments. (College applications are expected to double within ten years!)

This is a serious situation, and we must do something about it now! Our future as a nation depends on it. Won't you help? Support the college of your choice. Help it to pay teachers decent salaries and the respect they so richly deserve. Help it to build the classrooms, laboratories and libraries that will be so desperately needed by 1970. The rewards will be greater than you think.

It's important for you to know what the college crisis means to you. Write for a free booklet to: HIGHER EDUCATION, Box 36, Times Square Station, New York 36, New York.

Attendance Required At Class Meetings

Mandatory attendance at "mass" class meetings at Redwood High School will be required Nov. 4 when one instruction period will be dropped from the schedule of each class for a meeting in the gymnasium, Donald Kreps, principal, said today.

Student officers have expressed hope that the fall and spring mass class meetings will improve participation in class activities and events.

Career Speaker

Richard W. Neumaier, San Anselmo optometrist, will speak on "Should You Consider a Career in Optometry?" Wednesday noon in Room 32, Austin-Science Building, College of Marin.

The ceremonial saluting by fire developed after the introduction of cannon to warfare. A victor would demand a cannon salute, possibly to make sure the defeated enemy's guns were empty.

Gen. Clark Says Pope Is Right About Abbey

CHARLESTON, S.C. (AP)—Gen. Mark W. Clark (ret.) says he is "inclined to agree" with Pope Paul VI that the Benedictine Abbey at Monte Cassino "should not have been bombed."

The Pope, speaking at the consecration of the rebuilt abbey Saturday, said the bombing was a "grave outrage."

Clark, now president of The Citadel, commanded the Fifth Army during the Italian campaign of World War II. He said he would have had no compunction about destroying a work of art if it were being used by an enemy.

"But, I feel this was not true in the case of Monte Cassino," he said. "This was proved after the war."

Wild Animal Life Filmers' Jobs Best

By RICK du BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Who are the fellows to be most envied in network television? The high-salaried executives? The influential schedule - makers and wheeler-dealers? The actors who kiss all those pretty ladies?

No—the fellows to be most envied are naturalists Marlin Perkins and Jim Fowler, the hosts of NBC-TV's Sunday series, "Wild Kingdom," which for a half-hour each week presents a look at animal life and primitive existence the world over.

Think of their good luck and good sense. No high-pressured martini lunches. No pinching neckties day in and day out. No overriding concern about getting a whopping rating because their show airs during the day.

There they are, out in the open, breathing good, healthy non-television air, doing what they love, traveling, getting what is probably a very decent price for their efforts.

Yesterday's broadcast was entitled "Trailing the Midnight Sun" and ventured north of the Arctic Circle. There was Fowler, for instance, immersed in a robust existence while you and I were concerned about such matters as raises, Sunday night traffic and deadlines. My envy knew no bounds.

"Wild Kingdom" is a swell series, and I hope Mutual of Omaha, which sponsors it now, plans to continue doing so for some time. In color, yesterday's program had some special treats, among them excellent shots of a polar bear, great Alaskan moose and a snow goose. Particularly exciting were shots of a helicopter skimming low over Alaskan marshland with fish-and-game workers aboard in an attempt to strategically separate a moose from its calf by aerial diversion in order to tag the younger animal. The attempt was successful, and so, especially, was a film sequence diving out to grab the calf.

The landscapes also made for pleasurable viewing, and the program had a unique scene in which a heard of domesticated caribou was processed through a corral—rodeo style—to be tagged and counted.

Watching this scene made me think again of how fortunate Perkins and Fowler are to be able to avoid the domesticating process of the Hollywood and Madison Avenue caribou, and how the basic free spirit of "Wild Kingdom" shows this.

And speaking of free spirits and wild kingdoms, we recently ran into Sy Weintraub, the producer who owns the film and television rights to Tarzan, the jungle gent who was supposed to have turned up as a video star this season or next, but ran into modern-day negotiation headaches, among others. Weintraub bought the rights for 3 million dollars or so six years ago. He said that if anyone had an interest in buying the rights, he might consider talking about selling them now for 10 million dollars, which is why I am asking for a raise.

THE CHANNEL SWIM: ABC-TV's Sunday night movie for Nov. 15 is "Bird Man of Alcatraz" . . . Burt Lancaster is the star of the film, which tells the story of the famous convict who became a world authority on birds during his long confinement.

The first part of the council meeting will be devoted to a hearing on rezoning of the Farr property between Olema and Sir Francis Drake Boulevard from single family to multiple residential.

The council will discuss whether to endorse the formation of a Marin Transit District as proposed in Proposition A on the Nov. 3 ballot.

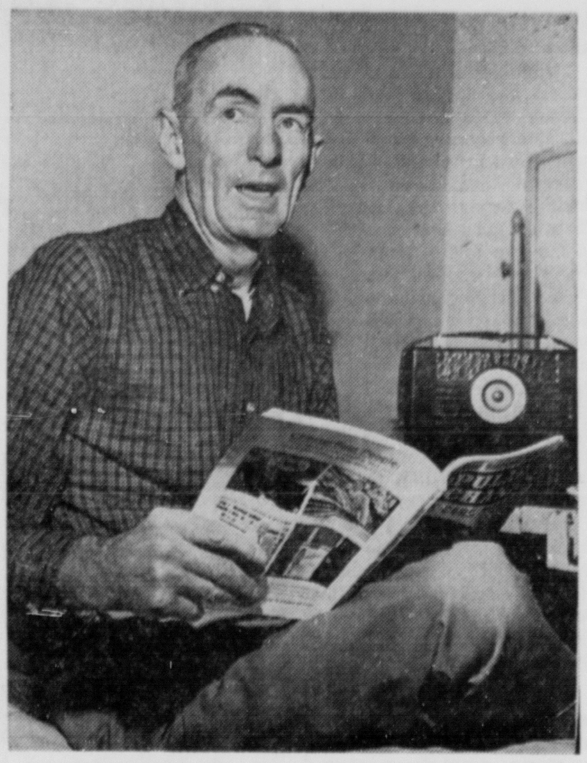
One Man's Story Is Good Reason For TB Checkup

It Could Never Happen —But It Did'



TB SURPRISED HIM—John C. Dunning, sitting on his bed in Ross Hospital terrace, relates how tuberculosis took him by surprise after a bout with influenza last December. His advice: Have checkups regularly.

John C. Dunning, the 55-year-old Marin school custodian who last winter was found to have advanced tuberculosis, may need chest surgery despite nine months' treatment with TB-fighting drugs and six months' hospitalization.

After three months of at-home treatment and isolation, he was last month re-admitted to the Ross Hospital Terrace. There, sitting on the side of his bed, he reviewed his experience with the ago-old disease he had been sure would never touch him. His attitude was more puzzled than resentful.

About this he was not puzzled: He is convinced everybody should get annual TB check-ups —including school employees who are required by existing state law to be checked only every two years.

Had Dunning been X-rayed every year, his unusually rapid infection would at least have been headed off, he believes.

His difficulty started last December when he caught the flu. He stayed home from his job as chief custodian of Tamalpais High School for two or three weeks, but a cough persisted and he lost five pounds not easily spared from the 124 he usually carries on his five-foot-seven-inch frame.

He made several trips to the doctor. Shortly after the first of January a chest X-ray was taken. "That put me in the hospital in a hurry," he recalls.

He believes he worked for several months with active TB. Without the flu he conceivably could have continued months longer.

"I sure never thought I'd get TB," Dunning said, wonderment in his voice. "None of the other patients here did either. And when they got it, they didn't know they had it. It creeps up on you."

On diagnosis of Dunning's illness, immediate tuberculin skin tests were ordered for his sister and brother-in-law, with whom he has made his home during 17 years' residence in Marin. His sister's negative reaction showed she had no TB germs in her body. Her husband, also a Tam District custodian, reacted positively but a large chest X-ray showed no infection.

During the tuberculin test survey conducted last March in the Tam District by the Marin Tuberculosis and Health Assn., three other members of the custodial staff reacted positively. None had active infection. Since they had not been previously tuberculin tested, there is no way of knowing when they came in contact with tuberculosis germs.

Dunning, a bachelor, had farmed and railroaded in his native Nebraska before joining the school district staff 17 years ago. He lives simply and had accumulated a tidy savings toward a comfortable retirement.

His savings have been wiped out. Drugs alone cost nearly $100 a month. And his Social Security and state retirement funds will only partially cover the medical care he must have.

Since there's nothing he can do about it at the moment, he pluckily projects his thoughts beyond the next few months to the time he can return to his normal activities.

"I've asked for a year's leave-of-absence from my job. Oh sure. I know I'll be able to handle the work."

Chances Good For State Demos

By JERRY RANKIN

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Democrats stand their best chance in recent years to gain an election-day prize that has eluded them since 1883—two-thirds control of both houses of the legislature.

The reward is financial security of a sort, and neither party has had it since the Republicans in 1933.

Approval of all fiscal matters, including the budget, requires a two-thirds vote of each house.

Democrats have that in the 40-member State Senate now, holding a 27-12 margin with one vacancy. All signs point to their retaining that edge.

In the Assembly, however, the current lineup is 50 Democrats, 28 Republicans and two vacancies. Lack of the 54 votes that make up a two-thirds majority has in recent sessions led to a budget stalemate when Republicans refused to vote for a spending program, forcing special sessions before compromises could be reached.

Republicans concede that only a stroke of political lightning could give them a majority in either house—but they are struggling hard to avoid losing the lever they now have in providing the required Assembly votes for passage of a budget.

Whatever happens, at least six new faces are assured when lawmakers roll into the Capitol garage in January. This is because two senators retired, two Assembly incumbents lost in the primary, one assemblyman quit to run for Congress and one Assemblyman was elected to Congress in a special election.

As usual, however, there are very few legislature seats that can be considered truly competitive. In most cases, this is because one party has a prohibitive edge in voter registration. In a few, it's because of the personal popularity of the incumbent, regardless of registration.

A survey of political reporters and other competent observers around the state shows Democrats with good chances to knock over these Assembly Republican incumbents:

1. Robert T. Monagan of Stockton. He is fighting a 3 to 2 Demacratic registration edge and faces in University of the Pacific professor and ordained minister Phil Wogaman an attractive candidate running a hard race.

2. Victor V. Veysey of Brawley. Democrats, with the registration edge, have patched up their 1962 split and offer strong support behind Cruz Reynoso, an El Centro attorney helping lead an upsurge of Mexican-American political activity in Imperial County.

3. Stewart Hinckley of Redlands. Democrat Ray Conatser of San Bernardino again presents strong opposition, after losing to Hinckley by 548 votes in 1962. In this usually close district, Democrats pushed a registration drive that gave them a large number of new voters and a bigger registration edge.

4. James C. Whetmore of Garden Grove. Carrying a 12,000 registration edge, Democrat Paul Erskine of Los Alamitos is putting up a stiff challenge as Whetmore aims for his second term.

Another district where Democrats have high hopes of picking up a previously GOP Seat is Riverside County's 74th, formerly occupied by Gordon Cologne, now the Republican candidate for a State Senate spot. Riverside attorney Donald L. Chapman carries the Democratic banner against W. Craig Bidle, Riverside public defender.

But Republicans also have hope, with these Democratic incumbents considered in danger:

1. Myron Frew of Dinuba. Mayor Gordon Duffy of Hanford, Kings County's largest city, is running well. Duffy should draw his biggest support from Kings County — which puts Frew in trouble since he traditionally loses Tulare County but recoups in Kings.

2. Harold E. Booth of Orland. In 1962, Ray E. Johnson, a Chico businessman, lost by less than 3,000 votes out of 73,000. Johnson again is the GOP nominee this year.

3. Tom Waite of Lancaster. This race is considered a toss-up, with Waite facing a strong challenger in Newton R. Russell, a Tujunga businessman. Waite was elected to his freshman term in 1962 by 619 votes over his GOP foe.

In the open, traditionally Democratic Mother Lode district in Northern California, Republicans have strong hopes for El Dorado County Supervisor Eugene A. Chappie of Cool. He is given a good chance to knock over Democrat Howard A. Smith, an Auburn engineer.

Democrats are putting up tough campaigns against Sen. Vernon L. Sturgeon of Paso Robles and Sen. Robert J. Lagomarsino of Ojai. Fighting a Democratic registration lead, Sturgeon is opposed by San Luis Obispo City Councilman Donald Q. Miller. Lagomarsino, considered running slightly in front as of now, is up against Democrat Newton Chase, a retired Ojai private school headmaster.

A district Republicans are aiming at is that of Sen. Aaron W. Quick (D-Calexico), up for re-election for the first time. Mike M. Schultz, an El Centro businessman-farmer, is Quick's foe, but is reported trailing at this point.

Another GOP target is Sen. Alvin Weingand (D-Santa Barbara), first elected at a special election in 1962. Santa Barbara attorney Tom Halde is running hard, but reportedly is some distance behind Weingand.

She Follows Instructions

BOWLING GREEN, Ky. (AP)—Cindy Hartley of Louisville carried out instructions to the letter when she enrolled as a freshman at Western Kentucky State College.

Her father told her to (a) send her receipts home promptly when she paid enrollment fees; (b) go see President Kelly Thompson if she had a serious problem.

Cindy complied. Then she learned the receipt would stand for her ticket to Western's first football game. Off to see the president, she obtained a personal letter that got her by the gatekeeper.
